THE INDEX

VOLUME 47

ILLINOIS STATE NORMAL UNIVERSITY
NORMAL, ILLINOIS • 1937

In Presenting

. . . the 1937 INDEX, we have endeavored to introduce something entirely new and progressive in yearbook design and layout. Through the principle of mass balance, we have been able to publish a volume containing almost three hundred individual exhibits of the page layout. We have returned to the class division and group picture treatment of the organization. We have condensed the write-up where we felt clearness and conciseness to be essential. We have incorporated the system of the index in our continuity to add convenience.

In Presentation, we offer an edition in which we have attempted, pictorially and graphically, to set up a brief resume of the year's progress; an edition from which we sincerely hope the reader may derive something beneficial.

In Retrospection

The 1936-1937 school year may be recorded as one during which several marked changes have occurred in school procedures, housing facilities, and off-campus contacts of significance to Illinois State Normal University. Readers of the 1937 INDEX will, both now and in the future, relate some of these procedures and achievements to an interesting group of student activities as depicted through the pages of this attractive volume. Although the items mentioned here do not constitute an exhaustive list of significant factors in an interesting year of progress, some of them are of such significance as to write unique chapters in the long and eventful history of this University.

With the opening of school in September, 1936, Illinois State Normal University found itself for the first time in history with a limited enrollment and consequent selective admission procedure. The limited enrollment came as a result of housing facilities being completely exhausted, and the necessity of limiting the number of persons who could be admitted into certain departments as new students. Even with the limited enrollment of 1872 students, Illinois State Normal University continues to be the largest state teachers college in the United States. It is regretted that approximately 200 students who would like to have been admitted could not be taken into the institution this year.

In the freshman class of almost 700 persons, it is interesting to note that there were 168 students who had qualified for attendance in this teacher training institution on the basis of the new high school scholarship law, which granted an exemption from those fees which are sent to the State Treasurer. Thus many valedictorians, salutatorians, and others in the upper one-fourth of their high school classes made up this interesting group from the freshman class.

For a number of years, Illinois State Normal University, in common with many other colleges and universities, has required that entering students submit certain high school units or groups of units before being admitted to the University. The tendency among the more progressive colleges and universities is to place the responsibility for the right type of work in high school upon these secondary institutions and to accept graduates of recognized or accredited high schools. Our University Senate, composed of general administrators, directors of divisions, and heads of departments of the faculty, recently passed the regulation "that Illinois State Normal University admit students who are graduates of recognized or accredited four-year high schools and who meet our other entrance requirements without setting up specific requirements in terms of academic credits." This will eliminate the necessity of many students from some of our best high schools having to be admitted on condition.

For years Illinois State Normal University has used a numerical marking system, being one of few institutions of higher education in the country still adhering to that form of marking. For the first time, during the 1936-1937 school year, the newly adopted letter marking system has been used, student marks now being in terms of A, B, C, and D, as passing grades, and F as failure, with honor points attached to the three highest letters.

Perhaps one of the most noticeable forms of change around the campus is in terms of improvements to the physical plant. After some remodeling in the library building, quarters were provided for a Sample Textbook Library where our student group, as well as teachers-in-service, may have the opportunity of examining the best elementary and high school textbooks published in all such fields. New offices were provided for the Vidette, the student newspaper, and this has made possible decidedly improved working conditions in getting out this excellent publication twice each week. In connection with the Federal Works Progress Administration a number of projects have been carried out on the campus which have resulted in resurfacing of the drives, constructing of new walks, considerable grading of athletic fields, the constructing of the outdoor amphitheater and new tennis courts, and a number of other improvements. Through State funds, Old Main and the University Library have been rewired and new lighting fixtures installed. Some rewiring has been done in the Metcalf and Industrial Arts buildings and new fixtures installed in all of the corridors and in most of the rooms. New museum cases to house valuable collections have been installed in the Science and Library buildings. The new greenhouse is rapidly nearing completion and will provide an excellent source of materials for the beautification of the campus, which has been somewhat neglected in the expansion and utilization of additional areas.

While the 1936-1937 school year will not see any marked building program being started upon the campus, the year does mark the period in which certain requests were made of the State Legislature, which it is believed will result in a much needed new university library building, a new auditorium with separate units for music, speech and administration offices, as well as provision for a new home management house for the home economics department and the reconstruction of the old auditorium into much needed classrooms. This building program of over a million dollars should be one of the significant steps in the development of the University along several lines.

Perhaps the outstanding accomplishment of this school year in terms of what it will mean to graduates of the past as well as the future, has been the attention given to the organization and development of county alumni units in various parts of Illinois. Prior to the beginning of this school year there were just two such county organizations but at the close of the year fifteen organizations, thoroughly alive in their activity and cognizant of their opportunities and responsibilities, are to be found stretching from the Cook County group in the northeastern part of the state to St. Clair County to the southwest. Illinois State Normal University is definitely committed to a policy of acquainting its alumni through group organizations with the significance of teacher education and the part that their Alma Mater is playing in the furtherance of this important profession. It is expected that the fifteen county units actively at work this year will be almost doubled within a period of another school year and into these units will go many of the students at present on the campus and who receive the 1937 INDEX.

Recognition has come to Illinois State Normal University during this school year in the nature of the selection of our campus for the meeting of nine state organizations. From the middle of March to the middle of May, it has been our pleasure to have the Illinois Chemistry Association, the Illinois Conference on Temperance in the Schools, the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Illinois Conference of Supervisors and Directors of Education, the Illinois Vocal and Instrumental High School Music Contest, the Big Brother and Big Sister Association, the Illinois Probation Officers Association, the Illinois College Press Association, and the State Oratorical and Speech League, with almost 11,000 persons attending these various meetings. Further recognition has been evident in the large number of superintendents, principals, and other employers of teachers who have come to the campus this year seeking teachers for rural, elementary and high schools.

Each year brings its accomplishments but it is apparent that the student body in attendance at Illinois State Normal University during the 1936-1937 school year may look back upon the year as one of unusual significance in many respects, only a limited number of which have here been presented.

The Alumni Association

At noon on Commencement Day, the annual dinner and business meeting of the Illinois State Normal University Alumni Association was held. Two hundred and thirty-five members were present. William Small was elected president of the Alumni Association, T. J. Lancaster, vice-president, and Mrs. K. C. Adolph, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Small received his diploma from I. S. N. U. in 1919 and is now living in Petersburg, Illinois.

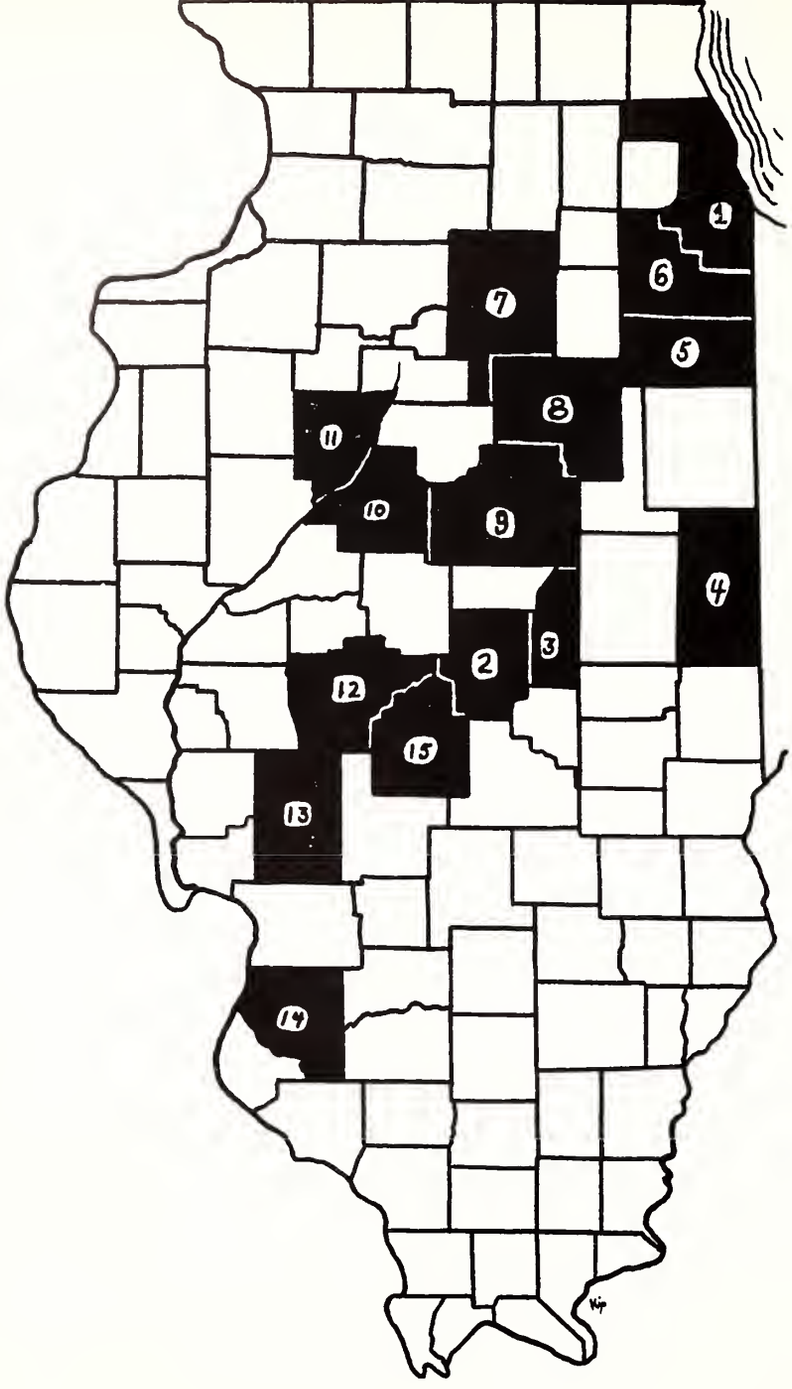

"That the Normal University, with its fine record of accomplishments and its bright prospects for the future, should be handicapped by an indifferent alumni is unthinkable," stated Mr. Small, and went on with the plea "that the membership be at least trebled during the current year."

Undoubtedly, Mr. Small realized the need for an organization of alumni of Illinois State Normal University. As a result, alumni clubs were organized in thirteen counties (see map on following page). While Mr. Small's business enabled him to become acquainted with a wide number of Normal graduates, he was not alone in his efforts. With the aid of President R. W. Fairchild and Mrs. Gertrude Hall, encouragement to organize was offered to Normal graduates from Kankakee to St. Clair county.

Although it was gratifying to see such a fine response, this, it was decided, was by no means the time to pause. "Organization is one matter; growth and continued activity, another matter," stated President Fairchild in a recent issue of the Alumni Quarterly. "Alumni clubs are a very definite part of the universities from which they emanate. The teachers college, the same as the endowed institution, must seek new students for teacher training through its alumni."

I.S.N.U. LIBRARY NORMAL, ILL.

Alumni Secretary

Miss Flora Dodge

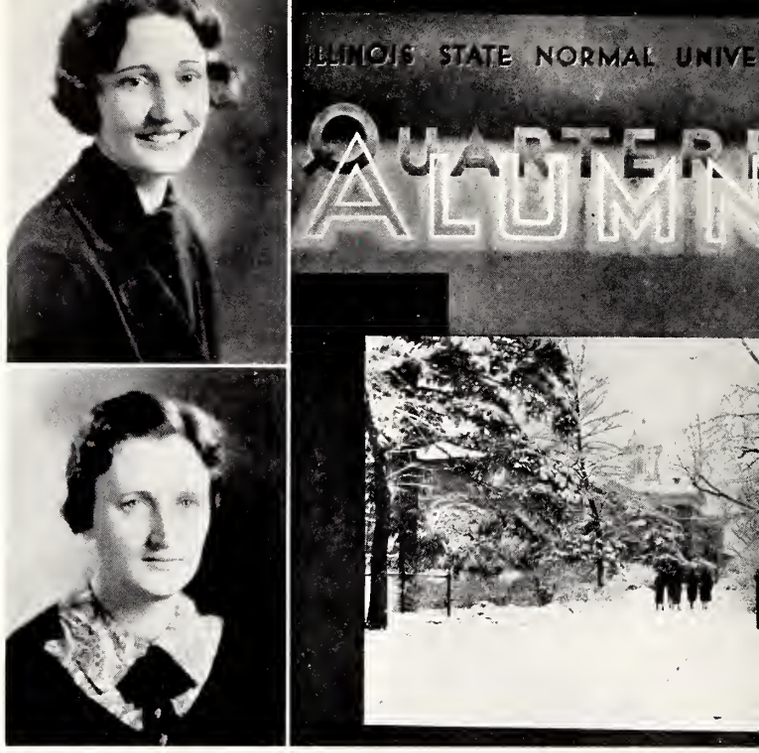

Keeping track of over 10,000 alumni of Normal, is Miss Flora Dodge's work as Alumni secretary of I.S.N.U. From 1927 until 1934, nothing was done about keeping an organized record of alumni. In 1934, new files were added to the outer office of the President of the University and Miss Dodge undertook to secure names, addresses, pictures, and such information as was possible to get from over 10,000 alumni.

For the past six years, the Alumni Quarterly has been a publication of the university press in charge of Kenyon S. Fletcher of the Industrial Arts Department and William V. White.

Mrs. Gertrude M. Hall, editor, received her appointment in the summer of 1936. As associate editor and former editor, Mrs. Nora B. Partlow has been affiliated with the Quarterly since October 1934.

The Alumni Quarterly is the official organ of the Alumni Association. Each member receives a copy with his membership dues. With the February issue, this magazine has adopted a new trim size without sacrifice in number of pages. The Quarterly is mailed to alumni in Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, and Hawaii.

I. S. N. U.'s radio station, WJBC, 1200 k.c., presented many varied programs to its listeners throughout the year. One of the features was the Alumni Club of the Air, presented each Tuesday afternoon between five-ten and five-thirty.

Directed and conducted by Chris Harpster, it offered numerous reports each week from different alumni as well as music by the Alumni Club Quartet. Each program was dedicated to some particular group of alumni.

To furnish news of the campus to alumni and scatter news of the alumni was the purpose of this program.

Right this way, folks, for the greatest twenty-five cent value in the history of I.S.N.U. Step right up but don't crowd. Plenty of opportunity for all. Only twenty-five cents for this interesting, entertaining, instructive feature of the I.S.N.U. campus. A personally conducted tour of the campus of the largest state teachers college in the country and the oldest west of the Alleghenies. Can you afford to miss such an astounding offer? Of course, you can't. Buy your tickets now! Hurry! Hurry! The group leaves in just a few moments for the 60 minute trip. See how the future teacher spends the time while changing from a green freshman to an educated graduate. Your last chance to go on this trip today so come right up and get your ticket. Anybody else? There you are, sir, you just made it. We are leaving immediately.

Just keep close together, folks, and we'll point out to you the interesting personalities and sights of this wonderful institution for the training of teachers.

To our left rises the Metcalf school, the setting of many struggles of student teachers. Here is the place where, on registration day, Mary Bryant was mistaken by a faculty member for a mere high school child and was almost enrolled in U. High. In this room Mr. Goodier is said to have given his make-up tests. The room that we will next visit is the one in which Mary Louise Barger taught French Literature and always caused the class to laugh by blushing whenever the discussion centered on "knights."

Follow me this way, ladies and gentlemen, and we will enter that historic building, Old Main, the oldest state normal building in use in the United States. To our left is the department of mathematics. Yes, those people, Al King, Marcella DeWitt, Beulah Clamon, and Francis Brown, are their names, really know what maxima and minima, double integration, and derivatives are, even though some of the rest of the class don't seem to be following Mr. Mills very well. The young man in the corner of the room propounding mathematical puzzles is Robert "I'd like to ask a question" Anspaugh.

Going up these stairs we approach the part of the building devoted to the Englishers and journalists. There you see Russ Crum and Madeline Kerchenfaut discussing with Miss Vinson writings which she had read "when I was about five years old." Over there is Emily Ann Coffman who is known on the entire campus for her poetry and smiles. This magnificent suite of offices is the domain of Johnny Dohm, Henrietta Trapp, and Fred Swan who are endeavoring to find news and explain to an irate president why a notice didn't appear in last Tuesday's Vidette that the ————Club will hold a special meeting, help a journalism student make a presentable opening paragraph, and in between are trying to get a little studying done. Those voices you hear through the transoms of the literary society halls are Don Holley and Bob Turner orating on the merits of peace, and Ruth Pearson debating on the question — Resolved: It is better to be on the outside looking in than on the inside looking out.

Returning to the first floor we may see Louise Claypool and Paul Unzicker demonstrating how to carry on an interview when applying for a position. Oh, yes, there they are, and in this room we can see Dr. Houston and Ed Meadows discussing character education for the rest of the class.

Through this corridor we arrive in the Industrial Arts building (it has everything from psychology classes to a print shop, but is still the Industrial Arts building).

Those girls in the uniforms are "home ec." people. After four years "Phoney" Nicol and Jane Larrick feel that they can teach anybody the intricacies of cooking and Virginia Osborne and Jean Sebastian are able to do such a practical thing as make chili for a school club party. Across the hall Don Snyder and Bob Walsh are helping bring to the student body the latest adventures of Mickey Mouse.

The next stop on our tour will be the dungeon, which has nothing to do with jails. Here the followers of drama such as Clara Louise Slack, Gertie Stewart, Grace Siffert, Virginia Mitts, and Bernadine Benson worked on flats (no, sir, not tires), and learned to put paint brushes away clean. Wayne Dedman, the only person to receive training as a bartender at Normal, is probably around somewhere.

Ahead of us is the library. In spite of appearances it is not the oldest library building in use in the country. That fellow you see through the window gazing at all the maps and globes is Weldon Watterson whose voice thrilled the hearts of the girls in his classes whenever he recited.

The bell you heard was for the dismissal of classes. Perhaps, if you wish, I'll be able to point out a few interesting personalities as they go by. There are the senior "twins," Mary Huxtable and Helena May, and sure enough Curt Smith is tagging along. Here comes Gene Rodeghiero, of baseball fame, the best spaghetti maker of the school — just ask the fellows who eat with him. The girl on the opposite walk is Betty Lou Dunning who knows nine out of every ten fellows she meets in Bloomington or Normal. There is Ruth Glasener, hotcha assembly singer, and that is Miriam Findley, the youngest-looking member of the class of '37. Shorty Dunham is able to take the part of Tarzan or a two year old baby any time and make either seem real. I'm sorry but it wouldn't do much good to introduce you to those "nifties" since they are really Dick "Ah-ma-we-nah" Griesheim and Ned Parret hurrying to a Blackfriar rehearsal.

Into the Science building now, folks. There sit Louis Browning and Fred Reuter trying their best to understand azimuthal quantum numbers and relativity. Kenneth Knight, who just passed us, is in training for the career of an absent-minded professor. He writes down everything he is to do but forgets to look at his memorandum book. Rose Dean is spending her spare time thinking up arguments with which to convince Mr. Decker that girls can teach physics as well as men. On the third floor we can see Pauline Baird and Oran Leffingwell who almost put out their pupils instead of the fire when their model fire extinguishers blew up. Muriel McKinney is the smartest girl in this physics class (the only one, too, according to all reports).

Our next stop is Cook Hall where we will probably see Charlie Newton or Al Hahn leading the band in such favorites as "The Old Gray Mare," "Three Blind Mice," and "Redbirds." We won't take time to walk to WJBC but I might mention that Hildegarde Walty is quite a radio speaker since she cut class to go shopping and spoke on the man-on-the-street feature. She has worried ever since because of reports that her instructor was listening to the program that day.

Now we'll walk down to the gym and see some of the "fizz-ed" people at work. The quiet looking fellow we just met was likable Bill Moore, football captain. Well, look who is coming here. I have been told that on Homecoming night that girl — wait a minute — the boss said if I told that story again to a bunch of customers I'd be fired so it will have to be skipped. The fellow putting on the hill-billy act is just Paul "Ezry" Hudelson but nobody minds him when he carries on like that.

Please, go in this door and follow me. Sounds like a big bunch of the people are in action around here today. There is Grace Mikel, Gamma Phi queen, and over in that direction (the fellow with the seat of his trousers patched with adhesive tape) is Ralph Deetz. His sister, Virginia, turned the seniors into bluebirds this year. Those husky looking men are Bob Kile and Harold Stambach, champ grunt-and-groaners, while punching the bag over there is the Golden Gloves boxer, Tom Sutherland. Bob Koehler, who "swept" the mat at the Missouri wrestling meet a few weeks ago, is probably around too. Over on the horizontal bar trying to chin himself enough times to pass gym is Walt Bright, Senior Class prexy. There are Gilbert Veach, Morris Carr, Horace Hanes, and Dick Welty jumping rope to get in condition for track. If you see a couple of fellows tossing in one-handed baskets from about the middle of the gym floor you can be sure that they are Don Adams and Glenn Jacquat keeping in condition. Now this other part of the gym is interesting too. Gladys Wiseman is leading those girls in the "Dance of Spring" although I can't tell just what part is the spring. Doris Angelton, Eleanor Moniger, Marjorie Hedges, and Maxine Groves are pretty important over there.

Now for the last stop on our tour. A very saddening sight, but the tour could not be complete without it. I refer to the corner on which the Alamo stood. "Remember the Alamo" is certainly a sad phrase for the I.S.N.U. student's ear. Dempsey Reid, LaVelle Ogden, Red Kidd, Stella Harriman, and Joe Jacobsen are reported to have been almost ready to pack up and go home after the Alamo was torn down but they all finally recovered from the shock of losing the night life spot of Normal.

JUNIORS

I had a letter from Kip today asking me to find out what I could about all those people that used to be in the Junior class during good old '36 and '37, I says to myself, "That's been ten years ago. Gee Whiz! I can't remember much about all the important ones. Sponsoring should include keeping track — I hope." So I took the gum out of the telephone transmitter and waited a couple of minutes for that long distance to go through. Mr. Beyer was swell about it and listen, he knew plenty. Said he saw the '37 Junior class president, Dick Chambers, just the day before in Bloomington. He is business manager for some government-owned newspaper syndicate. Seems Don Holley is campaign manager for John L. Lewis who is still running on the Labor ticket. Don always had a slight tendency to lean toward the red. Say, it was sort of a slam at the Juniors the way Bob Turner and Don joined up with the seniors. Seems to me they should have been glad to stay in a good class.

Jean Thomassen is doing right well. She has an excellent position on the faculty helping teach those snooty Bryn Mawrs their English.

I had the surprise of my life when Mr. Beyer said he attended a baseball game and found Bill Aleks, not on the bench, but in there pitching for the Rookies. That reminds me, I never did find out whether or not that Cline guy, Dale, I believe they called him, is related to Chuck Cline or is it Klein? How about it, Dale? I guess baseball just gets 'em, whole families. Now then there was a little girl in that class who was always playing jokes on people — Jeffie was her name. She's climbing right up, too. I've been told she is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's No. 1 woman director. I'll bet she's having a picnic bossing the big shots around.

Dot Deitz was president of Women's League while I was in the institution. If I remember correctly she rated a trip to Los Angeles by just being President of that organization. I imagine she's still doing club work and traveling.

I bet Louise Goble is stepping around just like she always did. She played that old piano with a will, let me tell you — a dependable gal — Louise. Speaking of music, that reminds me of Joe Citron. Often wondered what became of Citron. I'll never forget the day he walked in to Dr. Waggoner's class and Doc says, "Well, Joe how was it, pretty tough exam?" or words to that effect. I guess that was the exam that took Joe out of the realms of school-teachin' possibilities and caught him up with Uncle Sam. Mr. Beyer says he's doing right well with his post in the Philippines. Say that guy had a lot of push. He ruined a good composer (or did he?) to make a better army officer.

It seems no one had heard from Geraldine Dooley for a mighty long time until recently. She's one of the people that is helping to make radio click, which reminds me that Donald Orr's name is appearing pretty often in Radio Guide these days, have you noticed it?

My, it always surprises me when I find out each time that the world really is small after all. I never dreamed Mr. Beyer would know about so many people.

I often wonder how the good old Jesters are making it. I am pretty certain none of their presidents since have been any better than ours, Mariada Duesing, it was.

Yesterday's sports news carried a nice column about Arley Gillett. He's a top-notch fights promoter and old Tom Sutherland seems to be staying right up there. I can't say much for my knowledge of fighting techniques but I like fights and I'd sure put my money on Tommy — to win.

I often wondered if Ashley Thomas was happy in his role as cheer leader when he was at I.S.N.U. Seemed to me Ashley often looked mighty unhappy while he was in the middle of one of those warwhoops. Maybe it's silly, but I recall that one of my suppressed desires was to walk up to Ashley sometime when he was doing that "our team is red hot" jingle and say "Shush!" Funny thing about this athletic business. It cinches 'em Look at Christy Christenson and Ed Lesnick. Both of these boys are playing professional football now.

The last Alumni Quarterly had a fine article about Bob Smith. He's getting along all right with those I.S.N.U. students. I remember the kids used to predict Bob would one day return to the Old Alma Mater as a faculty member.

Always I have wondered what happened to track men. I used to think that was like playing up a blind alley but it seems they never run out of ground. Jimmy Bush certainly swung the Olympics around by the tail. I don't know how the United States would get along without him.

Let me quote myself as saying, "It's a mighty funny sensation to walk into your favorite dance spot and find an old classmate tooting his bit thar in Ye Old Rainbow Garden." I am proud to say I was among these who predicted big things for that Stevenson lad.

Marguerite Polette is getting very definitely along with those roles she's been playing in musical comedy. Petite — Marguerite!

There was something in the paper last week about Bill Mullaney. Something to the effect that he has opened a brokerage office on Wall street. Cheery little game — watching the tape — exciting too, at times.

My, I felt lonesome after the receiver clicked but when I got the bill from the telephone company I came back to reality with (what is that much-used term?) a start. If it weren't for the wealth that abounds wherever school teachers are, I couldn't afford it but Kip — well, you asked for it!

SOPHOMORES

Look! Green and orange! An old Alamo table! Come on, let's investigate. Remember the Alamo?

"R. F."—must be Ross Fairchild. He and Miss Henline really put that class on the map. Louise Huff and Doris Etherton were officers along with Ross and gave him a lot of advice. They really did things in a big way. Their advisory board was the only one in school; maybe that was part of their secret of success. Gosh! Those parties they sponsored were swell: Harvest Moon Dance, After-Exam Let Down, the Cotillion, Hobby Night. A harvest moon is dangerous any time but after a dance like that—well, the sophomores couldn't be held responsible. Hobby night was a gift to the school. Men's intramurals helped swing that one. The Cotillion decorations transformed that gym into a place worth dancing in and George Hamilton's Music-box music lived up to all the advertising the sophs gave him.

The automobile in that corner looks like Mac Roe's work. I suppose he wanders into his Peoria job about fifteen minutes late munching a candy bar. But maybe he has changed his ways and gets up in time for breakfast. Guthrie has graduated from the Vidette now. Remember? "See Ed Guthrie's cartoon every issue, page two." Bob Hooton dabbled in all kinds of art but water colors must have been tops with him since he won the Merwin medal for his Landscape in water colors.

Here's Dick Heflick's name! He and the rest of that trombone quartet, Jensen, Kelley, and Linn, could out-do the five-cent Alamo music even if it was nothing more than "Three Blind Mice." I wonder if all music majors are a bit confused in their recent history. Dale Maple informed the sociology class of the stork-market crash of 1929.

The Alamo couldn't have held out for as long as it did without Fell Hall assistance. No one could resist the Alamo from President Grace Kollar down through the most insignificant resident—if a Fell Haller can be insignificant.

Athletes and athletics did their bit for the Alamo. What is a game without a coke? And the athletes must have some place to break training rules. Ingerski and Hamilton were not satisfied with basketball honors so they took up baseball. Kavanagh took up football, baseball, and track in addition to his basketball. He's saving tennis and track for next year. Matthews and Read fight for the headlines and pictures in the Pantagraph during baseball season. Michaels does his part in having Normal keep up with Popeye. What is Popeye without the Jeep?

All those fellows couldn't outdo the women's star, Tidye Ann Pickett, a member of the U. S. Olympic team last summer. She wasn't the only one whom Hitler thrilled—Miss Teager had her share too.

"C. W." Satirist, cynic, columnist, debater, Carl Wilson. Cynical by conviction or . . . convenience for his column . . . we wonder. The women were prominent in speech too. If it takes inspiration for orations it's no wonder Mary Helen Goff won the Edwards Medal and third place in the DeKalb oratory contest. Dark eyes and curly hair might even make her turn poetical.

Here's something, a bishop—must be the homecoming play. Harriet Barnes and Esther Lillman certainly went in for that "pub." Homecoming wouldn't have been complete without the queen either. Helen Moberly didn't have that bedraggled look in spite of the rain.

But why waste our time with an old Alamo table? The ones in the Co-op are much better.

Sophomore Advisory Board

As an aid in governing and contacting the members of the sophomore class, the officers of the class selected a group of representative sophomores to act as a board. This board has many functions. Besides serving as a governing body and a means of contact with all members of the class, it is of vital importance as a means of discovering student wishes and ideas. Members of the board serve as committee chairmen for the social events of the class and they select the members of their committees from members of the class not on the advisory board.

The officers of the class, with the aid of the sponsor, select the board members of the ratio of one member on the board for every ten members in the class. This same ratio applies in the number of students chosen from each curriculum. Through this board it is possible to contact all the members of the class without overlooking any of its divisions. The board is comprised of approximately sixty members. Through its contributions in government and service it has proved to be of great value to the class.

Dear Butch:

How's all the mob at Joe's? Well, Butch, I guess you never thought you'd hear from me again — droppin' out after the big job when they put the heat on, and all that, but I just gotta tell you about this new gang I'm in. Freshmen, they call us down here. What a bunch! Big — they say they ain't never been nuthin' like it before. You shoulda been here when school started, Butch. School? Sure, I'm goin' to school. Anyway, when the first bell rung, we come out of our corners like "Judy" Davies usta do down at the Stadium. We was really ready for this battle for education. After we was registered, you know, just like bank night, we lined up for identification photos. You shoulda seen 'em, pal, just like the ones we got in the files at head — say! now I'm gettin' senimental. Then they give us some intelligence tests. I see everybody around me tearin' out their locks an' lookin' out the window, so I just do the same. I guess we done alright, 'cause next morning the reserve janitors were still sweepin' up the broken pencils, crumpled paper and handfuls of curls. Now, Butch, I been tellin' you about my colleagues (that's what they call us down here) and I wantcha to meet some of 'em They're an alright bunch, believe me. Butch, meet president George Brinegar — vice-president (no, she ain't no racket-queen) Maureen Kelley — secretary-treasurer Jimmy Armstrong, and our faculty advisor, Mr. Clarence Orr. Yeah, we got representatives to the student Council, too. "Red" Smith, James O'Connor, and Faye Barton stuff the ballot boxes for us. They're some little fixers, I'll say. You wouldn't understand about the Council, Butch, but I think you grasp the ballot bloating idea. "Have we got athletics like dem udder colliches?" Say, Butch, if our Freshmen boys get any bigger or better, the all-America Boards will be as undecided as the Supreme Court. Vucich, Miller, Aldrich, Prombo and Camp played the buzzsaw parts for our side in the pigskin parade. Harper, Magill, Nafziger, and Lacey were our net-swisners, while Brent — and Garnero scintillated (whew!) on the diamond for us. Speaking of Mercury, or was I? You know, Butch, he was one of them Greek guys that could really pick 'em up and lay 'em down. We got some guys that can lam over the cinders in pretty hot time too. Keltner, Smith, O'Connor, Rice — would make the flatties look like statchoos if they was ever bein' tailed. We got 'em all over the school — I mean the statchoos. You oughta come down some time, Butch — You'd meet some characters, what I mean, we got individuals in any degree of ruggedness you want.

If you hear a weird laugh come floating down the corridors — that'll be Pagel — the fencer. His only trouble is he thinks he's Cyrano de Bergerac, you know, one of them French guys with a big nose that used to hack around with swords an' stuff. Of course, Butch, everything is not one round of rowdy revelry; we must search for the esthetic. I asked Don March what it was, but he said it must be some new curriculum. That's sumthin' else you wouldn't understand. We really got some tough competition here, Butch, espeshully in music. Virginia Linn, Delores Sanden and the Holtz boys are only part of our main eventers. I tell yuh, Butch, if you could hear Donna Jean Trendt or Frances Pittman bounce high C's off the ceiling, you'd take off your hat, which you ain't done since the last police line-up. Take it off again, Butch, that's right. This time it's in honor of our debaters and dramatists. Are you an exponent of the dräh-ma, Butch? Aw, I was just kiddin'! Frank Coble, Jean Hambright, Lucille Anderson, Ellen Cox, Janet Ann Widdowson, George Sider, John Grosboll, Wilma Austin and Charles Mercier made their "dayboos" in the big time and they ain't had no trouble duckin' tomatoes and stuff, by which I mean the audience ain't never threw anything, has it? Of course you seen them soap-box guys over in Union Square, aintcha Butch? Well, our boys could talk circles around them guys, or under their eyes if they wanted to. Chiddix, Keltner and Brinegar are the silver-tongued boys in our mob, and they didn't get 'em from silver spoons, either. Mildred Lucille Smith laid 'em in the aisles at the Phil-Wright contest with her dramatic reading. You oughta see the Phils and Wrights slug it out sometime, Butch. It's really a brawl. Speaking of brawls, us Freshies really threw a couple this year. We tossed a Halloween party — I over-heard many expressions of pleasure and enjoyment such as "Dis is de nuts!" and "Some riot, eh kid?" We jostled the light fantastic to Jack Higgins' Mmm! Rhythm! The refreshment line looked like opening day at the Polo Grounds. You know me, Butch! On December 5, we give a North Pole party — floor show n' everything. We showed them upper classes they can't freeze us out with their "social functions." Speaking of functions, Dean Schroeder said, (according to erstwhile reliable informers) "this school can function without ruffians who wear their hats in the halls and whistle." I think he meant Harold Treash and Kent Alverson, but I wouldn't wear a hat if I was them — after them intelligence tests they had all their curls and a couple of 99's left.

Speaking of sombreros, or was I? Butch, you shoulda seen them Ag. boys when they brought back the beef or bacon or whatever, from Texas. Joe Getty, La Rue Sauers and Raeburn Rehn are the maverick marvels of our bunch. You know, Butch, that old school spirit sorta gits you. Jack Leonard, at the Wesleyan game, said, "We must cheer our team!" and Eleanor Rankin counters, "Whut foah? They sho' hain't tiahed yit naow, is they?" Tsk! Tsk! These suthenuhs!

I hope I ain't overlooked nothin' Butch. I'd like to tell you about a lot of little things that make it worthwhile. For instance, the time Doc Lathrop caused a reverse precipitation (Webster — page 1079) of the map of world precipitation by patting it with his pate. In your vernacular (Webster — 1182) Butch, he bumped da map wit' his dome and it "coiled" up. Well, I must "coil up" with a good book now, so here's regards to the boys at Joe's, and tell 'em that us Freshies will be back stronger than ever next year. After goin' through these preliminary bouts. I think we're ready for a main event. Keep your fingerprints off the records, and remember what Shakespeare said, "The pen is mightier than the warden," or stuff.

Romeo and Juliet

By William Shakespeare

"Two households both alike in dignity
In fair Verona where we lay our scene
From ancient grudge break to new mutiny
Where civil strife makes curl blood unclean."

After weeks of work and rehearsal in the scene shop, coal bin, drama office, and Capen Auditorium—University Theatre presented "Romeo and Juliet" by William Shakespeare, June 4, 5, and 6, 1936—Those two veterans of I.S.N.U. productions, Virginia Abbott and Clifford Scott, said their farewells to our theatre audiences in the title roles.

Hundreds thrilled to the age-old immortal story of sixteenth century lovers who were victims of a family feud—Phyllis Oswege and Dale Longbons played Lady and Lord Montague, Romeo's parents—Lord and Lady Capulet, Juliet's parents, were taken by Sarah Lee Meyer and Wayne Dedman.

Staging meant the construction of an entire set that could be moved with lightning speed for the seventeen shifts needed during the course of the play—George L. Scott designed the sets and in addition played the gay, madcap Mercutio—Lovier Frandsen portrayed Benvolio, friend to Mercutio and Romeo—Robert Cox as Tybalt, kept the hatred between the Montagues and Capulets aflame—and finally killed Mercutio.

Virginia Martin played Juliet's kind old nurse—Bob Millay was Peter, her manservant—Robert Turner as the Prince, Ned Parret as Paris, and Donald Holley as Friar Lawrence completed the cast of main characters who brought this favorite of Shakespearean tragedies to I.S.N.U. audiences.

Summer School Play

Scenes from the history of drama—an experiment in three movements—presented for the summer school audiences, July 29 and 30, 1936.

"The day of glory"—Greece of the fifth century B.C. produced the greatest period of world drama—surprising to find that the works of Euripides are most modern in their plots and characters—a scene from "The Trojan Women" portrayed the beauty and simplicity of Greek drama—Miss Mabel Clare Allen, director of University Theatre, played Hecuba, Queen of the Trojans—Anita Crites, Jim Lusher, Ralph Lovell, Evelyn Houghton, and the chorus lent grace and dignity to this bit of old-world drama.

"The day of sentiment"—painted realism in settings under the glare of gas lights—dashing heroes and fainting heroines—and Branson Howard's "Old Love Letters" typical in its stilted formal speech and gesture, this play was an instant hit with audiences who love the melodramatic—Emily Ann Coffman played the delicate and sentimental widow, Mrs. Brownlee—Alfred Andreae, the dashing widower who had to come back to his boyhood love—Marie LaFond, as the maid completed the cast.

"The day of power"—most vividly represented by the expressionalistic drama of a post war Germany—stylized staging, sharp lights and shadows, angular movement, and staccato speech—the themes always symbolic of man's problems in a social world dominated by machines— A scene from "Gas" presented the billionaire worker, taken by Gaylord Mullins, who stands for those who believe that man is greater than the machine who dominates him—but the chief engineer, portrayed by Casper Duewer, and the first figure in blue, played by Caroline Heineman realized the futility of struggling against such a force.

"I walked about a mile and a half to a garage down the road . . ."

University Theatre presented Homecoming audiences with a delightful mystery comedy—"The Bishop Misbehaves" (not quite so naughty as it sounds)—October 29, 30, and 31, 1936.

The play told the story of a Bishop (whose secret dissipation was reading mystery stories) and his mild old sister, Lady Emily—They stopped, purely by accident, at a "pub" and the Bishop got his heart's desire—he stumbled upon a mystery in the form of some stolen jewels.

Taking the jewels home with him, the Bishop calmly awaited his fate—the thugs arrived—followed soon by a handsome young hero and a lovely heroine—but the Bishop solved the mystery, and everybody was happy and satisfied—except Lady Emily who wished it had not happened in such a short time.

Al Andreae played the title role—other men in the cast included Wayne Dedman as Red—Larry Hayes, Casper Duewer as Collins—Lovier Frandsen, Richard Koehler as Donald—Ned Parret, John Keltner as Mr. Brooke—Shields Logsdon as Frenchy—and Frank Coble as Mr. Waller.

Esther Lillman, Adeline Stevenson, and Harriet Barnes played Lady Emily—Jean Hambright, Bettylou Stickrod, and Golda Lauterbach portrayed Hester—and Lucile Anderson, Ellen Cox, and Janet Widdowsen portrayed Mrs. Waller.

No More the Sea

By Janet K. Smith

The premiere performance of "No More the Sea"—by Janet Katharine Smith—was presented by the Jesters January 21 and 22, 1937 under the direction of Mabel Clare Allen.

While entirely fictional—the play was intended as a plausible presentation of what really must have happened—little is known of Cretan history—but it is certain that the actual conquest of the island was as sudden and as unforeseen as was suggested in the play.

Al Andreae carried the role of the old Minos who believed that Crete could never be defeated—Rehkmara, an Egyptian, played by Lee Stabenow, had repeatedly warned the Minos that he will some day be surprised by a land attack—Emily Ann Coffman and Charles Mercier as Yneltis and Tarien were the love interest.

Gertrude Stewart as Mehrtal, the scheming mother of Prohmir, portrayed by Robert Cox, brought the play to the breaking point—With the aid of Kaltes, a foreigner from the mainland, played by Richard Griesheim, she schemed to kill Tarien—Kaltes, however, was the spy of the barbarians and he brought the downfall of Crete, by allowing the barbarians to enter—proclaiming that the sea should nevermore be the dominating force in Crete.

The play was authentically staged—costumes were hand painted in the manner of the Cretans—movement was stylized—all of which combined to give a play of unusual strength and beauty.

What Every Woman Knows

By James M. Barrie

"What Every Woman Knows," James M. Barrie's famous play was presented by Theta Alpha Phi, honorary dramatics fraternity, in two performances, March 20, 1937.

Betty Martin—in her first University Theatre role played Maggie Wyle (whom Barrie warns us is not good looking)—Maggie had a passion for romance definitely out of place in a plain person—but her adoring family set out to help her get her heart's desire—involving John Shand, a young student, played by James Flood (also new to the University stage).

Maggie tried hard to make up for her plainness and lack of charm—she outwitted the glamorous Lady Sybil, played by Bern Shafer, who was sure that she loved Maggie's husband, John—Mildred Schulze, as the curious and flirtatious Comtesse—and Howard Sharp, a British cabinet member added humor to this delightful party.

Wayne Dedman took the part of David Wylie, Maggie's brother and head of the household—Ivan Garrison who was Alick Wyle, the old Scotch father, who just couldn't get used to being well-off—the other brother James, (to whom the Wylies paid little attention) was portrayed by Hiramie McAdams.

Especially appropriate because it came at the end of Woman's Week—this humorous, whimsical and subtle play still has the men in the University wondering "What Every Woman Knows."

"Speak up now, John Shand, what are your objections?"

Forensics

The legislative assembly which met at the close of the first day of the Fifth Annual Invitational Debate Tournament.

All men and women of the University are eligible to participate in forensic activity. Those interested may also become members of the men's debate club, sponsored by Dr. F. L. D. Holmes, and the women's debate club, sponsored by Miss Ruth Yates.

The first major forensic event of the year was the International Debate held November 24 in Capen Auditorium. Oxford University, England, represented by Richard U. P. Kay-Shuttleworth and A. W. J. Greenwood, met Robert Turner and Donald Holley of I.S.N.U in the sixth international debate held on this campus. The former upheld the affirmative on the question, "Resolved: That a written constitution is a menace to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." Convincing arguments and brilliant wit marked the comments given by both sides. During the discussion held immediately after the debate, the two teams attempted to answer questions from the audience. A post-debate reception held in Fell Hall provided many university students with an opportunity of meeting the Englishmen.

The second forensic event of the year was held on the campus January 8-9, namely the Fifth Annual Invitational Debate Tournament. Those who debated in the first division were required to debate both sides of the question, "Resolved: That the extension of consumer cooperatives would contribute to the public welfare." Second division debaters were required to speak on only one side of the question. Illinois was represented by teams from Augustana, Bradley Tech, Chicago University, Eureka, Illinois College, Illinois Wesleyan, Millikin, Monmouth, Northern Illinois State Teachers College, Olivet, Principia, Southern Illinois State Teachers College, St. Viator, and Wheaton. Indiana sent teams from Franklin and Manchester Colleges, Wisconsin from Ripon and Lawrence Colleges, Iowa from Iowa Teachers College, and Michigan from Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo. Robert Turner received the highest rating of the tournament with an average of 7.7 while in the second division, Miss Jean Thomassen was first with an average of 7.33. The ratings were made by the debaters, each rating his opponents on a scale ranging from one to nine points. Augustana received the highest team average with a score of 6.26. All students participating in the tournament, coaches, and critics, were guests at the Forensic board dinner held in Fell Hall the evening of the first day of competition. Giving his oration, "The Spirit of Democracy," Donald Holley won third place in the state peace oratorical contest held at De Paul University. With this ranking went a prize of twenty dollars and the right to participate in the national peace oratorical contest which was to be held a few months later. In the contest devoted to world peace, Mr. Holley contended that its promotion would come from true democracy.

Miss Mary Helen Goff and Miss Emily Ann Coffman placed first in the two divisions of the thirty-fourth Edwards' medal contest. Miss Goff's original place-winning oration was entitled, "Hidden Stars." Miss Coffman read "The Dead," by Rupert Brooke as the required number and "Rienze to the Romans," by Mitford, and "A Musical Instrument," by Browning. The judge was Dr. Wayland Maxfield Parrish, head of the Division of Speech at the University of Illinois.

At the Pi Kappa Delta convention at DeKalb, April 1, 2, 3, Donald Holley and Robert Turner received high scores in oration and extempore speaking, respectively. Miss Mary Helen Goff received third place in the women's division with her oration, "Hidden Stars." Mr. Holley spoke on various phases of the general topic, "The Social Security Act." Mr. Turner's oration was "Young America on Parade." The debate teams from I. S. N.U. closed a successful year by taking third in women's and fifth in men's divisions. The women's teams were composed of the same students who previously won first place in the state debate contest. Ellen Sorrenson and Ruth Hoffman, and LaDine Cochran and Sarah Graham, tied again for first in the preliminary rounds but had to be satisfied with third place after the run-off. Men's teams, composed of Carl Wilson and Herman Graham, affirmative, and Irl Ferguson and Lee Stabenow, negative, tied for fifth place.

The crowning event of the year in forensic activity came as a result of the work of a single orator. Robert Turner, representing the state of Illinois in the men's division in the Inter-State Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest at Northwestern University, placed fourth in the final round of the contest in which more than eleven states were represented. Mr. Turner gave his oration, "Young America on Parade."

Normal representatives at the Pi Kappa Delta meet held at DeKalb, and their coaches, from left to right are: Dr. Fred S. Sorrenson; Robert Turner, winner of first place in men's oratory and also state meet; Mary Helen Goff, winner of the third place in the state meet in women's oratory; Donald Holley, winner of first place in extempore speech; and Dr. F. L. D. Holmes, head of the speech department.

Founder's Day

The presentation of the birthday cake

February 11 is a day to be remembered on this year's calendar. It marks the celebration of the 80th birthday anniversary of the University and the first get-together of the I. S. N.U. Alumni Club of McLean County.

J. W. Carrington acted as toastmaster for the occasion, and, as usual, kept the ball of geniality rolling. From Richard F. Dunn came Normal's welcome, while Bloomington's extenders of goodwill were Elias Rolley and Roy A. Ramseyer. Mrs. Homer D. Etherton represented McLean County and William Small, president of the Alumni Association, greeted the group on its behalf. Mrs. E. H. Gastman of Decatur, whose husband was a member of the first class of I. S. N. U., was an honored guest at the dinner. Her account of the past histories and glories of Old Normal was an interesting one. Music for the evening was furnished by the University Orchestra under the direction of Miss Emma R. Knudson.

President R. W. Fairchild gave the address of the evening on the subject "Building for the Future out of the Past."

A special birthday cake ceremony added a festive touch to the dinner as a double file of students marched in with eighty candles and two birthday cakes and presented the latter to Mr. Carrington.

At the business meeting held at the close of the banquet the following officers were elected:

President.....C. E. Harpster, I. S. N. U.
First Vice-President.....Roy A. Ramseyer, Bloomington
Second Vice-President.....Georgina Beazley, Stanford

Freshman Week

By Frances Taylor

Vacation time was over: our happy-go-lucky days were "gone with the wind." On that memorable day, September 8th, we the class of 1940 assembled in the auditorium for the first gathering of our college days. Seven hundred strong, we eagerly looked forward to this moment. Of course we felt green, but we tried to hide this uncomplimentary feeling by an assumed air of "know-all-edness."

Making us feel very much at ease, President Fairchild graciously extended a welcome to us and urged us to take an active interest in the school activities. Each Freshman considered himself lucky to be admitted to the institution after hearing the explanation made regarding the restricted enrollment policy of the school. Many of us wondered how we could avoid confusing similar names on the faculty, and how we could recognize our Directors of Divisions. The conducted tours helped us more than anything else in gaining our sense of direction and in becoming more familiar with the school.

We soon found that our school work was to start a few days prior to that of the upper classmen because of those much dreaded entrance tests. But, they were not nearly so difficult as our friends, the sophomores, led us to believe. Our ego was deflated a trifle as we tried to recall those elusive things we had learned in high school. We "racked our brains" trying to remember what "laissez-faire" means and when the Spanish Armada was defeated. An over-whelming sigh echoed and re-echoed along the halls of Old Main when the last of these five intelligence quizzes was completed on Wednesday morning.

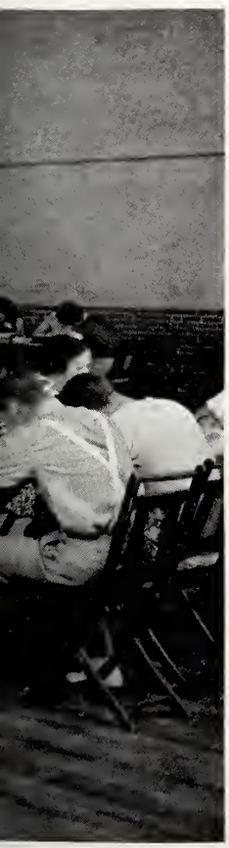

The faculty and administrative officers soon became aware that this new class could make plenty of noise. At the Freshman sing the cheer leaders were greatly impressed with our lung capacity, but whether this noise could be classed as first-rate singing is debatable. Was it purely a coincidence that the first motion picture offered the Freshmen was entitled "Chatterbox"?

and tour

On Wednesday afternoon the women students had the opportunity of becoming better acquainted with Dean Barton; the men, with Dean Linkins. In the conferences we were made to feel our responsibilities and privileges as students of I.S.N.U. The talk by Miss Welch, the head Librarian, proved of real value.

The line of Freshmen seemed unending on that very hot night of the Freshman reception, but each one of us was given the opportunity of meeting members of the faculty. How pleased we were when one of the hostesses spoke to us and remembered our names. This first formal reception left a wholly favorable impression upon the guests. There were many rumors that not all of the guests were Freshmen, but that a few were upperclassmen. Were they that eager to catch a glimpse of us?

Freshman Reception

Freshman Party

If on Thursday evening each Freshie had been required to name one thing for which he was thankful, the general reply would have been, "Because registration day comes only twice a year." Just as people are now given numbers for old-age pensions, we were numbered early that morning. First come, first served was the policy. We were quite bewildered at all the papers we must sign, all the okays we must obtain, and all the pamphlets and valuable receipts we must not lose. As a crowning feature of the day, each student was required to have his picture taken for his activity ticket. Now we realize why the "gentlemen" whose pictures we see in the post office often look so haggard. Perhaps they had just gone through registration day at the Big House.

The Freshman party that evening was the ideal place to "let yourself go." There were games and amusements to suit every taste and temperament. To add to our fun, we were invited to attend the All-School Complimentary party on the following evening. At long last, we were to meet those forbidding upperclassmen who would set us on top of water fountains or lock us in deep, dark closets. But nothing so dire happened. In fact they went out of their way to be especially friendly to us.

And so we started our school days with a feeling of great happiness and expectation. We began at once to prophesy good times ahead of us, and the words of the prophecy have been fulfilled.

Forty excited people gathered on the I.S.N.U. Campus at 6:00 o'clock on the morning of June 17. They were the 1936 geography trippers, who, under the direction of Dr. H. O. Lathrop, were to travel 8000 miles in the following forty-nine days.

Because the trippers were not accustomed to traveling two hundred miles a day by bus, scenes like this were frequent the first few days.

By June 23, we had reached our first great scenic wonder: Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico and then drove on through Texas . . .

and north, through barren desert and on across the Colorado Plateau. One afternoon we visited the famous Petrified Forests.

Saturday, June 27 was a full day. We visited cliff dwellings, had lunch in Flagstaff, and drove on to the Ice Caves.

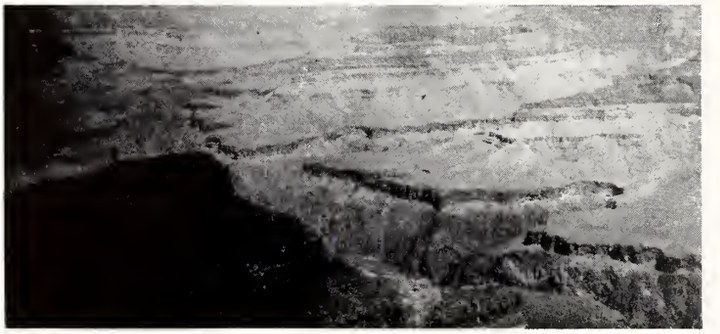

That same afternoon part of the group climbed to the top of Sunset Crater.

The buses pushed on to the Grand Canyon before we pitched camp.

We saw the canyon by sunset and sunrise. Many of the trippers rode mules to the bottom and back—a fifteen mile ride.

We left Grand Canyon and drove westward, bound for the coast. On the way, we stopped at Boulder Dam . . .

and spent a few hours viewing the wonders of this gigantic undertaking—the highest dam in the world.

The week-end of our country's birthday was spent in Los Angeles and its environs. On July 4, we sailed to Catalina Island.

At Catalina, some danced to Jan Garber's music at the Casino, some swam in the Pacific . . .

Then on north to San Francisco, where we visited Chinatown and saw the Golden Gate Bridge.

and others took the glass bottom boat ride to Submarine Gardens.

In leaving San Francisco by the bay ferry, we passed Al Capone's home, Alcatraz Island.

Then on north from Los Angeles to Yosemite National Park where one of the buses drove through the trunk of the famous Wawona tree.

We traveled on north along the Pacific Ocean, stopping occasionally to gather shells and clams.

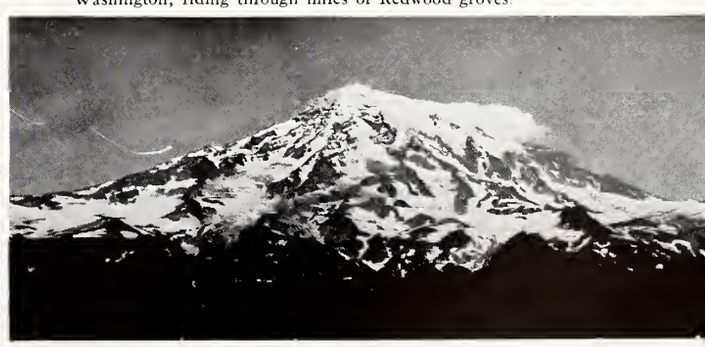

At Yosemite, we saw beautiful waterfalls . . .

After ten days in California, we traveled on through Oregon and into Washington, riding through miles of Redwood groves.

and ate lunch one noon under the huge Sequoia trees in the Mariposa Grove.

As we rode along July 16, we saw Mount Rainier loom up before us.

This snow covered peak bears twenty-eight glaciers and is one of nature's great wonder spots.

At Banff, forty miles from Lake Louise, we watched the Stony Indian Tribe parade one morning.

We passed the day in mountain-climbing, snowballing, and looking into lovely reflection lakes.

Horseback riding along the Bow River at Banff was delightful.

On north to Seattle, then east through the Wenatchee apple country and Washington wheat fields.

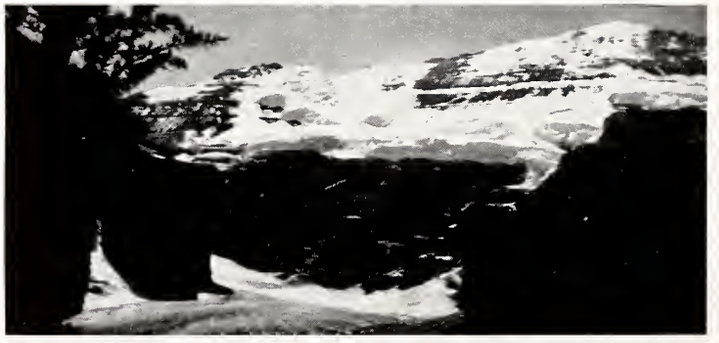

The day we reentered the United States, our buses pulled into camp at Glacier National Park in Montana.

One afternoon we crossed into Canada and were on our way to Lake Louise and Banff. At Lake Louise, we hiked to glaciers . . .

After two days at Glacier Park, we headed eastward over the Great Plains which we had crossed five weeks before in Texas.

looking back often to admire the beautiful blue-green lake lying in a basin below us.

On the margin of Minnesota's lake country is Bemidji, where we camped and swam.

At Hibbing, Minnesota, we visited the Mahoning Mine, the largest open pit iron mine in the world.

On August 4, we broke our last camp, and tied our blanket rolls for the last time.

The 1936 geography trippers had been in Mexico, Canada, and seventeen states of the United States, but Illinois still looked good to them that afternoon. On August 7, the redbirds said goodbye until Homecoming.

October 29, 30, 31

FOOTLIGHT FACTS

"The Bishop Misbehaves" turned out to be a mystery that out-Sherlocked Sherlock Holmes. Some of the most talented students of I.S.N.U. brought to large audiences of homecomers a mad and merry mixup of suspicions, confessions, explosions, and whatnots. Much to everyone's happiness, the villain was eventually properly punished and the hero and heroine, with the blessing of the Bishop, lived happily ever after.

October 29

OLE SOAKS

At 4:30, to start things out with a splash, the freshmen and sophomores, decked out in everything from overalls to white flannels, met in a tug-of-war on the South Campus. After a few minutes of struggling the husky frosh had the less hefty sophs in an S.O.S. (sink or swim) situation. Needless to say, more than one poor sophie wished he had worn a bathing suit and a diving helmet.

October 30

BRIGHT LIGHTS

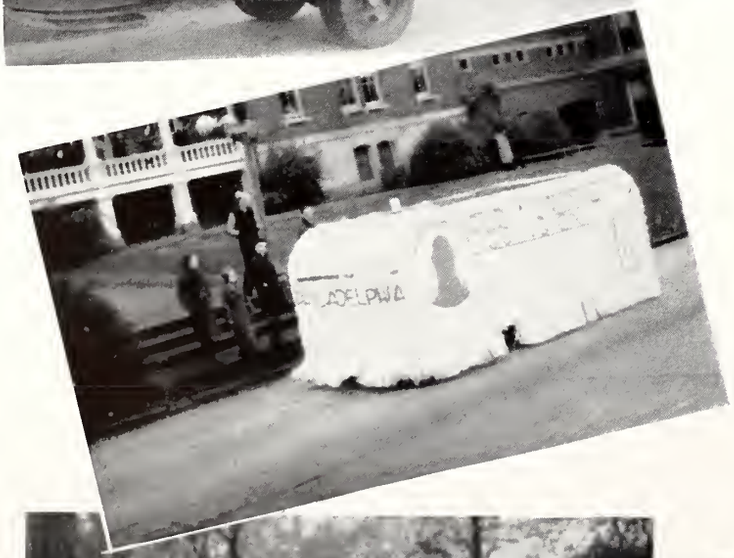

By 7:30 Friday evening forty houses were decorated and lighted ready to pass muster before the discriminating eyes of the judges. University Club and Smith Hall again nibbled up first prize with their novel idea of "Cleanin'

D' Cob." The decorations showed a cardinal picking the kernels off of a cob. The words "Hi Grad" and "Welcome" added further to the Homecoming spirit.

The "N" Club carried off second prize by showing "You Shall Not Pass Under the Walls of Jericho."

The group at 217 S. University won third place with their presentation of a political scene predicting a victory for Normal over DeKalb.

The Newman Club at 215 S. University was awarded fourth prize. Their decorations pictured DeKalb as a moth getting singed by Normal.

The "DeKalb Is Out of the Picture" scene took fifth prize for the men at 307 North Street.

The distillation of the Homecoming spirits in a huge flask brought the group at 204 North School Street sixth place.

Seventh place winner was the group at 304 North Fell Avenue with "DeKalb Draggin' While I.S.N.U. Is Sailing."

Eighth place went to 103 South Fell Avenue for the presentation "Burying the Hopes of DeKalb;" Fell Hall took ninth place with "The Fall of DeKalb;" while Wrightonia at 306 Mulberry won tenth place for the target scene with DeKalb as the center.

Most of the Homecomers trekked to the big event of the evening, the dance in McCormick Gymnasium. The walls of the large gymnasium were covered with paintings which portrayed campus scenes. The words "Welcome Normal Alumni," suspended in the shape of an N from the ceiling, formed the overhead atmosphere for the gala gathering. The background for the orchestra was a huge emblem of I.S.N.U. In both the women's gymnasium and the men's gymnasium, vari-colored lights played hide and seek over the crowd of alumni and students who from 8:00 until 12:00 o'clock were "swinging" to the smooth rhythms of Ted Weems and his orchestra.

October 31

BROTHER, CAN YOU SPARE A DIME?

In spite of the rain, the early hour of 9:30 A.M., and the numerous hang-overs from the night before, a large number of ragged hoboes and a varied assortment of floats had massed together in front of Old Main. Finally some semblance of order was attained and the parade started off with an official car leading. Following came the Eagle Scouts escorting the Colors; the I.S.N.U. band; a troup of Boy Scouts; the float with Miss Helen Moberly, Homecoming Queen, and her attendants; the organization floats; the Illinois Soldiers and Sailors Children's School band; the individual entries; and miscellaneous entries not competing for prizes.

After pursuing a hilarious trail throughout the campus and the business district of Normal, the parade marched out around the track at McCormick Field, where prizes were awarded.

The Commerce Club chugged its way to fame with a miniature train. Six stalwart youths provided means of locomotion for the cars which composed the prize-winning float. Such signs as "De Kalaboose" kept onlookers in a "do or die for Normal" spirit.

Nature Study Club with its sad, sad presentation picturing the burial of DeKalb won second place. Philadelphia, the Social Science Club, Alpha Tau Alpha, Junior Class, Hieronymus, Kindergarten Club, and Lowell Mason Club, respectively, won the other eight prizes.

In individual entries Gordon Cushman, Raymond Gale, and Madeline Kerz won first prize. Their uproarious representation showed "Alma Pappy and Mammy" pushing the baby in a baby buggy. Two very, very hoboish girls, Bernadine Cass and Joy Mathesius, took second place, and Morris Carr won third. Other contributions to fun and frivolity added to make the whole a peppy procession.

TIDBITS

The women's Varsity hockey and soccer games with the Alumni, scheduled for 10:30, had to be omitted on account of the rain.

The marching band contest was completed before the downpour. Empire Township High School band was awarded first place in Class C. Blue Island won second place in this division. In Class B competition, Taylorville High School took first place. Clinton High School received second, while third place went to the Normal Community High band. After the various drum-majors showed their prowess, all of the bands massed together under the baton of Director Mortiboy for the concluding numbers.

FOOTBALL!

Normal got off to a bad start when DeKalb punted out on Normal's six-yard line. Welty punted from behind the goal line and returned the ball to Normal's 35-yard line. DeKalb fumbled, but recovered and passed to gain 13 yards. With fourth down and two to go DeKalb's speedy Davis faked a line plunge to the right, and then with Normal's defense shifted to the right, sneaked across the goal line at the left for DeKalb's only score.

Vucich sprints around right end for a good gain

An informal dance group

With four minutes left, Welty returned Davis's kick to the DeKalb 35-yard line. A 23-yard pass from Stambach to Kavanagh was called complete when a DeKalb halfback held the receiver. With Normal's ball, first and ten, on DeKalb's 12-yard line, Stambach faded back and passed to Camp in the end zone for a tie score.

In the second period, the Redbirds did most of the work, but neither team was in danger at any time.

In the three-corned Cross Country Run between halves, Milwaukee Teachers College ran away with first place. Normal won second place, beating Wesleyan by a perfect score.

In the third quarter and the first of the fourth the playing was more or less even, much hard running keeping the "pigskin" moving most of the time. Incomplete and intercepted passes kept both the Profs and the Cards from scoring.

The hearts of Normal rooters turned a flip-flop when in the fourth period a blocked punt gave the Redbirds a chance to score. Moore and Lesnick charged through and blocked the kick and Lehwald recovered on the 9-yard line. With two down and two to go, the Cards fumbled. The few remaining minutes were vainly spent by Normal trying to regain the ball, but the whistle blew with the score a tie.

EVENING SESSIONS

Immediately after the game those in Lowell Mason Club held a tea at Cook Hall and the people in the Rural Curriculum banqueted in the Christian Church.

The Pi Omega Pi banquet was held in Roland's Tea Room and the Pi Kappa Delta and Pi Gamma Mu joint banquet met at the Methodist Church. The Home Economics Club held their reception and banquet in the Home Economics Rooms.

At 7:30 Homecomers and faculty "auld lang syned" at the reception held in Fell Hall.

After this feasting and reunioning that famous waver of the baton, Charlie Agnew, and his Orchestra, dispensed dance tunes to merrymakers. With his variety of moods and melodies he succeeded in providing music to suit every taste. Miss Emrie Ann Lincoln and Lon Saxon vocalized to one of the most enthusiastic gatherings at Homecoming.

AFTERMATH

On Sunday morning some of those who had enough "get up and go"—mostly a matter of getting up—attended the Y.W.C.A. Sunrise Service held at the Christian Church, while others went to the Newman Club Breakfast held at Hotel Rogers. This concluded the formal plans for Homecoming, but nevertheless the spirit of homecoming lived on far into the night.

Intramural Track

The freshmen came through with a total of 65 points to win the annual intramural track meet. The senior squad amassed 28 points to finish second. Next came the sophomores with 22 points, the juniors filling out the program with a total of 18.

The seniors scored a slam in the 220-yard hurdles because of the speed of Dick Welty, White, and Allen. Kenneth Bullard, Louie Poston, and Edmund Fetzer, all freshmen, placed one, two, and three in the high jump.

Bob Koehler won the discus throw with a toss of 110 feet and two inches. The next two places went to Harold De Weese and Don Wene.

Louie Poston's jump of nineteen feet, seven inches was good enough for first place. Eldon Smith and Fred Stuhlman were second and third respectively.

John Canfield finished ahead of Lamkey and Kauffold in the 880-yard run in two minutes, thirteen seconds. Later Kauffold won the two-mile race in twelve minutes and twenty seconds, leading McCannon and John Scott to the tape.

Harold Ferry led the field of thinlies to the finish in the 440-yard run, but was completely exhausted.

The freshman relay team, composed of Vucich, Pickrell, Poston, and Bullard, was victorious in the 880-yard relay.

Boxing Tournament

The annual boxing tournament under the direction of Intramural Director Gene Hill opened poorly represented in the lightweight divisions. Edwin Switzer was crowned the new 118 lb. champion because of no opposition. Elmer Rice won the 126 lb. class while in the 135 lb. division the action was fast and furious among Robert Stahl, Verle David, and Sam Axtell. David won a three round decision over Stahl and the right to meet Axtell in the final round. Axtell in moving up a division, attached another victory to his already long string, being crowned the new champion. In the 145 lb. class, Harold Bishop fought his way to the top honors. Lee and Wesley thrilled the spectators with their exhibition, Wesley winning the right to meet Bishop. In the title bout, Bishop was a little too clever for Wesley as he won a hard fought battle. Kenneth Allen was crowned the new 155 lb. class champion and in the 165 lb. class, Laverne Christensen retained his championship title after a hard fight with Jack Secord. Owen Balding won the 175 lb. class championship by a technical knockout when Jim Barry called it a bout after his eye became cut. In the heavyweight division, James Shearer was crowned the new champion when Fred Reuter cut his eye open.

Richard Halliburton

Richard Halliburton

Richard Halliburton, famous lecturer, traveler, explorer, and author, opened the 1936-37 lecture course on October 16, in Capen Auditorium.

With his lecture, "The Flying Carpet," he held the interest of the entire audience, telling stories of "monkey" riding on a donkey, his experiences in Timbuktu, the two fat princesses of Teheran, the Queen of Persia, Prince Ghazi in his ride over Babylonia, and many others.

The various adventures of this thirty-seven year old traveler have led him around the world. Firm in his belief, that to do the unusual is to make life interesting, he has climbed the Matterhorn, was the first to cross Fujiyama alone in midwinter, and has swum the Hellespont and the Panama Canal.

He relates all his thrilling experiences through his lectures and his books. Some of them are "The Royal Road to Romance," "New Worlds to Conquer," "Seven League Boots," and "The Flying Carpet."

The Globe Players as they appeared at "A Century of Progress"

Globe Theatre Players

The Globe Theatre Players presented the second lecture course number of the season January 15, in Capen Auditorium in their streamline version of Shakerpeare's plays.

In their matinee and evening performances, they presented "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Doctor Faustus," "The Comedy of Errors," and "As You Like It."

Since 1934, their first appearance on this campus, there have been some changes made in the cast.

The Globe Theatre Players have been a leading attraction at "A Century of Progress" in Chicago, the San Diego Exposition, and the Texas Centennial in Dallas. In each of the performances, the seats were all sold.

The Players use a Shakesperian stage and because they believe he wrote for a speedy presentation, put realism and vitality into their acting rather than the manner of the traditional tedious and oratorical presentation so often given.

Miss Anderson

Miss Marian Anderson

As the third lecture course number, Miss Marian Anderson, American Negro contralto, presented a recital in McCormick gymnasium, Thursday evening, April 22.

Miss Anderson, one of the most widely known singers of her type throughout the world, found an enthusiastic welcoming group made up of students and townspeople of both Bloomington and Normal.

During a visit to Europe a few years ago, she was coached by Michael Rauchausen of Berlin, and while there achieved a finer interpretation of Schubert's compositions through her study of the German language.

Last year Miss Anderson gave a recital before President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House and was greatly complimented by Mrs. Roosevelt on her excellent singing. She is noted for her beautiful voice and fine personality in every part of America and Europe.

Miss Anderson's first encore was the selection, "Finnish Sailor's Song," a gay and brilliant short number, composed by her accompanist, Kosti Vehanen.

Throughout the entire recital the audience was completely under her spell. With her perfectly controlled voice, well-modulated tone, and evident ease in singing she held the attention of everyone from her first selection.

Miss Anderson greatly cherishes the works of Schubert and Handel as the program will show:

Music

By Alvin Hahn

The purpose of the following three pages is to give some recognition to those musical groups who performed in the interest of music, on and off the campus, but are not a definite part of the extra-curricular program of the university. The Men's Glee Club Tour group, while not one of those mentioned above, is comparatively new.

The String Quartet

Left

Standing left to right are: Duncan Miller, violin, Gail Wiles, violin, Donald Paul, viola, and Louise Howerter (seated) cello. The string quartet has been featured on orchestra programs and other programs on and off the campus. In addition to the orchestra and quartet work, Mr. Miller has been featured on many programs as a violin soloist. Miss Wiles and Mr. Paul will leave this group through graduation this spring.

The University Trio

Right

Composed of Melvin Holtz, flute, Louise Goble, piano, and Milton Holtz, clarinet, this trio has played on many programs, including a special entertainment feature for the play, "What Every Woman Knows." Milton and Melvin are twins, by the way.

Re-Naming of "Old Castle"

After the contest

Phil-Wright Contest

The seventy-sixth annual contest of the Philadelphian and Wrightonian literary societies was won unanimously by Wrightonia. This was the second unanimous victory for the Wrights in the past three years. Last year, however, the Phils won by a four to three decision.

An interesting fact concerning this year's contest was that this was the third year that James Hodge had won an event for Wrightonia. Because of the rule that no contestant may appear twice in the same event, Mr. Hodge's victories have been in vocal solo, debate, and oration. Robert Turner and Mary Helen Goff had also appeared in previous contests.

The question for debate was "Resolved: That the several states should provide complete support for their public schools." Herman Graham and Carl Wilson successfully defended the negative side of the question. John Pricer and Ruth Ryburn of Philadelphia upheld the affirmative.

The extempore speeches were on the topic of consumer's cooperatives. Robert Turner defeated Evelyn Houghton in the discussion of phases of the topic.

Walter Mullen, singing "Where'er My Heart Finds Rest" and "Hear Me! Ye Winds and Waves," won for Wrightonia in vocal solo. His opponent George Palmer, sang "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."

James Hodge with his original oration "Democracy's Prodigal Sons" was given the decision over Mary Helen Goff who gave "What Next?"

For dramatic reading Mildred Lucille Smith read "A Minuet" by Parker. The Philadelphian contestant, Esther Lillman, gave "Rain" by Burnett.

In the final event, piano solo, Margaret Nelson of Wrightonia, defeated Martha Hallett. Miss Nelson played "Invitation to Dance" by Von Weber and "Staccato Etude" by Rubenstein. Miss Hallett's numbers were "Liebestraum No. 3" and "Czardas" by McDowell.

The Quarterly

Alumni Quarterly

The Alumni Quarterly is published by Illinois State Normal University under the editorship of Mrs. Gertrude Manchester Hall.

The Quarterly is published every February, May, August, and November and printed in the University Printing Department under the supervision of Kenyon S. Fletcher and William V. White.

The Quarterly offers such information as news of the campus, plans for the future, new addresses of alumni, and news of alumni activity. The publication also contains messages from the president of the University, president of the Alumni Association, and prominent I.S.N.U. Alumni.

In publishing the Quarterly. Mrs. Hall, with very limited facilities, has attempted to gather news of Normal alumni. Pleas have been made repeatedly in an effort to secure response from old Normal graduates. New and prospective graduates are cautioned to "join your Normal Alumni Association after you graduate, no matter where you go."

Freshman Handbook

The Freshman Handbook is published by the Women's League and the University Club, under the editorship of Emily Ann Coffman, President of the Women's League and Robert Turner, President of the University Club.

The Handbook is published with the thought of helping the incoming students to better acquaint themselves with the surroundings in which they are to live during the time they are in I.S.N.U.

The Handbook contains a brief greeting from R. W. Fairchild, President of the University. He expressed his wishes that each and every one of the new students that was entering I.S.N.U would have an opportunity to participate in various activities of the University; that each would be able to adjust himself easily and rapidly to the new environment.

A greeting was extended to the new students by O. Lillian Barton, Dean of Women and R. H. Linkins, Dean of Men.

Normal and its early beginning, in 1857, from the time I.S.N.U. was founded, was explained in an article on "Something about Normal." Many difficulties arose that delayed the building of the school, but in 1860, the building, now called "Old Main," was completed.

Normal, only a small place when the University started, has grown to be one of the most widely known towns in the state. The transportation facilities of Bloomington and Normal make it possible for students to have access to all parts of Illinois and adjoining states.

The many helpful hints from the registrar's office, as well as general information, were of great importance to some of the new people who were beginners at I.S.N.U.

Many of the organizations and extra-curricular activities were explained in a brief summary giving their purposes and their qualifications.

To acquaint the students more fully with the locations of the churches in Bloomington and Normal, an itemized list was published giving the addresses of each church and also the address of the minister's home.

The major traditions and customs of I.S.N.U. that have been handed down for many years were explained in a brief article, "Customs and Traditions." The "No Smoking" rule of the I.S.N.U. campus, Wesleyan Rivalry, and many of the yearly traditional events were pointed out.

The "I.S.N.U. Loyalty Song," the "Normal Loyalty Song," and "Red Birds," the main pep songs, were published along with several yells.

Ellen Petty
Associate Editor

The Index, yearbook of Illinois State Normal University, was published this year under the editorship of Charles H. Kippenhan. The business manager was Henderson May.

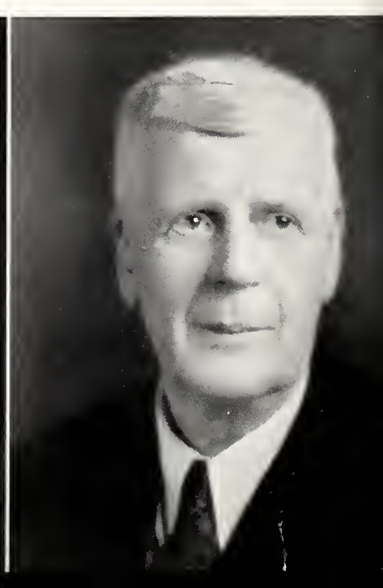

This publication is entirely the product of student labor. At the beginning of the year, about seventy applications were made for positions on the literary, layout, or business staffs of the book. Many of these applicants, however, lacked the experience necessary for yearbook work. After personal interviews, forty-five of these applicants were chosen on the basis of merit and willingness to work. No limitation was set up as to the amount of experience necessary. After the actual production got under way, the staff decreased to thirty-five.

The apprenticeship system, inaugurated last year, was again used this year. Under this system, the editor-in-chief must have had at least one year's experience on the staff, preferably in the capacity of an assistant or associate editor.

The Vidette

The Vidette

The Vidette, the University's undergraduate newspaper published twice weekly during the school year, was under the editorship of John A. Dohm during the past year. Richard Griesheim was business manager.

The reporting for the Vidette is done by the journalism classes of the University. With the exception of the editor and several members of the editorial board, the personnel of the staff changes at the end of the first semester.

The addition of a third course in journalism, wide growth of newspaper work's appeal to the student body, and a larger staff marked The Vidette's year. A fourth course in newspaper work is also being contemplated.

Working in conjunction with Mr. Dohm this year was Henrietta Trapp, who served as desk editor. On the desk staff with Miss Trapp were: Elizabeth Noble, Fred Swan, Irl Ferguson, and Carl Wilson. Mr. Wilson also wrote a column for The Vidette.

Richard Weicker, sports editor, headed a staff of writers consisting of: Larry Hayes, assistant sports editor; Mansel Danford, and John Ross.

Betty Lou Dunning and Jean Thomassen filled the positions of news editors and Emily Ann Coffman was literary editor. Betty Martin and Mary Louise Barger served as special writers.

The Vidette again this year has had as its faculty advisor, Dr. Paul Royalty, assistant professor of English and journalism instructor.

Re-Naming of "Old Castle"

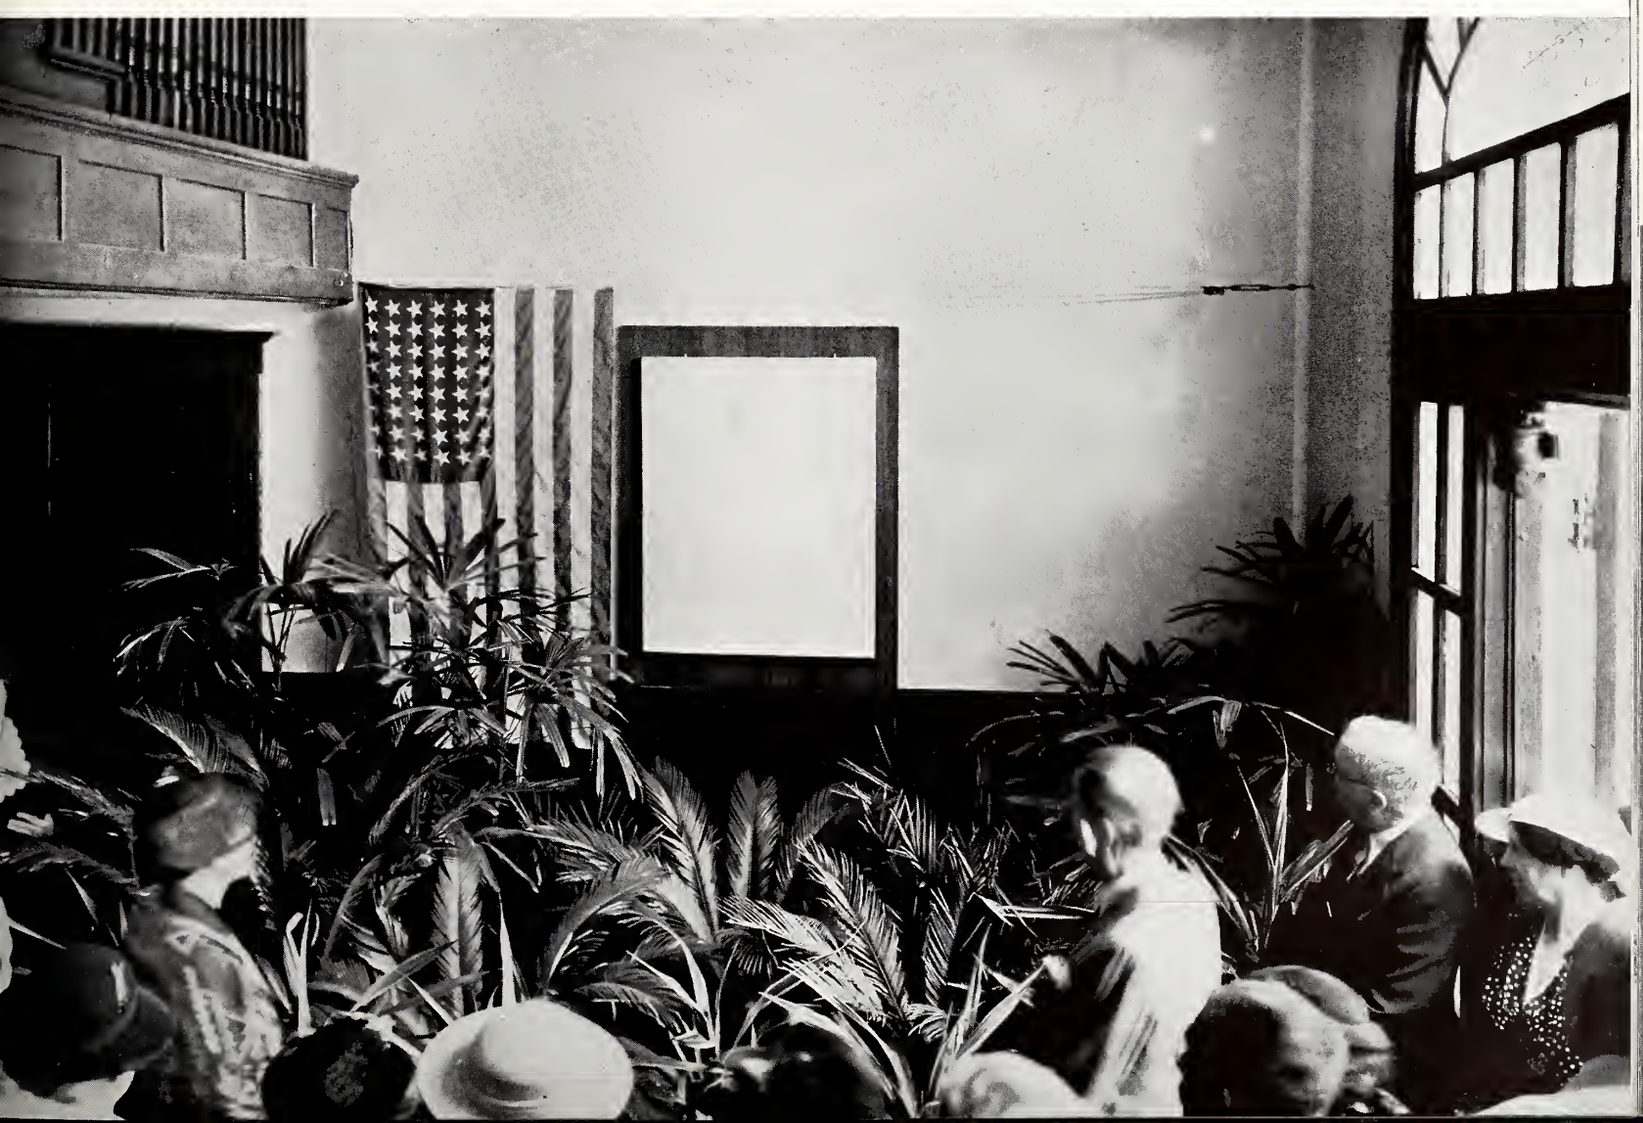

The movement to rename "Old Castle" was encouraged by the class of 1886. The day selected for the ceremony was a cool, clear day, Thursday, June 11, 1936.

R. E. Hieronymus, a member of the class of 1886, was chairman of the program. Among the many notables present were: Mrs. Ida Cook Gove of Bloomington, sister of Doctor Cook; Mrs. Rachel Fell Treakle of Normal, daughter of Jesse W. Fell, former president of I.S.N.U.; the Misses Ellen and Florence Edwards and Mrs. Mary Edwards Dougherty of Normal, daughters of Dr. Richard Edwards, former president of I.S.N.U.; and former Governor of Illinois, Joseph W. Fifer of Bloomington.

The University Band under the direction of Kenyon S. Fletcher opened the program. Mr. Hieronymus spoke briefly of the plan for perpetuating the memory of Dr. Cook. He mentioned that it was most fitting that "Old Castle" be named in memory of Dr. Cook since the stone building was erected during his presidency. "He was a musician and did much for music in the University," stated Mr. Hieronymus, "and most of the present music activity is now carried on in the stone building."

John H. Fleming, a member of the class of 1886, was expected to present the placque, but due to circumstances beyond his control, he was forced to send a letter, part of which Mr. Hieronymus read as follows: "Doctor Cook was a born instructor with keen insight into human nature. He had a thorough understanding of the beginner and was so big that he could see the little fellows around him. By general acclaim he was one of the biggest men in the educational life of his day."

Part of the large group who attended the ceremony

Mrs. Agnes Cook Gale, daughter of Doctor Cook, unveiled the placque bearing his bust and this inscription:

John Williston Cook, A.M., LL.D.
1844–1922
President of the Illinois State Normal University, 1890-1899
Teacher, 1866-1899

He proved the power and beauty of fine teaching. This is a memorial of his service to the schools of Illinois and a tribute to his leadership in American education.

The placque was accepted in behalf of the Illinois State Normal School Board by William R. Bach, resident member of the board and by President Raymond W. Fairchild in behalf of the University.

A number of quotations from addresses by Dr. Cook were read by Mrs. Harry L. Fleming of Bloomington, a niece of Dr. Cook. Mr. Hieronymus introduced former Governor Joseph W. Fifer of Bloomington, who spoke from experiences as a long and intimate friend of Dr. Cook and stated that he considered the former president the greatest educator McLean County ever produced.

John H. Gray, a student at Normal during the presidency of Dr. Cook, told of his associations with him and his family and of the way in which Dr. Cook befriended, encouraged, and induced him to continue his studies in Harvard and aided him financially so that he might continue his education.

Mr. Hieronymus, in closing, thanked everyone who made possible the plan to re-dedicate and re-name the "Old Castle," John W. Cook Hall.

Howard J. Hancock—Athletic Director, Football, Baseball, and Golf

The Michaelangelo of line coaches. Every one a true masterpiece. An all-American during his football playing career, he instills that same fight and drive into his proteges. Coach Hancock, working with a practically inexperienced squad, upset the advance dope by winning two conference games and tying another.

Harold Frye—Assistant Football, Basketball, and Baseball

Jack of many trades and master of them all, so Coach Frye, an able backfield coach in the fall, guides the "B" basketball squad during the winter months and returns to the out-of-doors in the spring to assist with baseball. Ability and willingness are his qualifications.

Men

Eugene Hill—Wrestling, Tennis, and Intramural Director

A tribute must be paid to Coach Hill for the Intramural program he has inaugurated at I.S.N.U. His wrestling team after only two years of previous competition placed second in the state meet. Leadership and personality are his.

Joseph T. Cogdal—Basketball, Cross Country and Track

A record of nineteen championships and eighteen runners-up in ten years at I.S.N.U. itself indicates the ability of Coach Cogdal better than any amount of words. His basketball team was one of the best in the race and his cross country squad placed second in the conference meet. Precision of action is the keynote of his success.

The year 1936 looked like a prosperous year on the gridiron for I.S.N.U. with fourteen lettermen returning and a host of promising freshmen.

The Red Birds were represented by a group of first year men because of injuries, sickness and other things that hampered the Normal squad.

As far as wins are concerned the past football season may be termed a failure, the Red Birds winning three, losing four and tying two.

The loss of Christensen for most of the season hurt the cardinals chances for a championship.

Pep meeting in front of Old Main

Normal vs. Terre Haute Indiana, Terre Haute, Indiana
September 26

With a cast of thirty-five players, Coach Hancock traveled to Indiana after fifteen days workout. The game showed that Normal had not had enough work before entering the first game. Coach Hancock used twenty-five men and gave some of his new men a taste of intercollegiate football. The outstanding players for Normal were Captain William Moore, Frank Bright, Howard Lehwald, Richard Welty. The play of Alldridge, Ives, Jordan, and Brunswick of the freshmen was outstanding. The game proved to be poison for Normal with Welty and Alldridge being put on the injured list. Normal fought the dauntless Indiana team to a scoreless tie. Running the ball all over the field only to see their efforts frustrated by a stubborn forward wall of Indiana.

Normal vs. Carbondale at Carbondale, Illinois
October 3

Coach Hancock and his laddybucks traveled to Carbondale to see what could be done about the jinx that has followed them to the Southern territory.

Playing on a well drained and sodded field, the Red Birds put on a drive that carried to the Egyptians' ten-yard line, only to see their efforts foiled by the stubborn wall of Carbondale. With Harold Stambach calling signals and doing the passing, Normal again threatened the Egyptians, only to have a fumble recovered by Carbondale in the late minutes of play. With the ball on their own twenty-yard line, the Egyptians passed to the two-yard line in two plays, for a first down. On the next play, Hill scored for Carbondale on a quarterback sneak. He also kicked for the extra point but missed. Carbondale 6—Normal 0.

With less than a minute to play, Normal tried desperately to score, but lost the ball in an intercepted pass.

Hill was outstanding for Carbondale; with Captain Moore, Lehwald, Stambach, and Bright playing brilliant ball for Normal.

Normal vs. Wright Junior College at Normal, Illinois
October 10

Having been driven inside most of the week by rain, Normal took the field and ran the ball all over the mud-covered field and scored a 20-0 victory over the Junior College. Coach Hancock gave his new men a chance to show their wares.

By passing and paving a way to a touchdown, Stambach proved himself to be a good general. Miller ran thirty yards for Normal's first touchdown. Stambach passed to Lehwald for the extra point.

After a sustained drive Joe Vucich plunged ten yards for Normal's second tally. Stambach kicked the extra point, after putting the ball on the twenty yard line. Stambach cut off tackle for the third and last tally for Normal.

Playing in Wright's backfield most of the afternoon Lesnick was brilliant in the win. Captain Moore proved to be the power house on defense. The playing of Miller, Vucich, Lehwald, Bright, and Welty was outstanding.

Normal vs. Macomb at Normal, Illinois
October 16

Reviving the rivalry with the Macomb Leathernecks, Normal stepped out and won their first conference victory by defeating Macomb 7-3. Normal was put in the rear early in the second quarter when Macomb linemen blocked Camp's punt and recovered on Normal's nine-yard line. In the next three plays Macomb gained only two yards and then Henderson dropped back from his tackle position and booted a twenty-five yard place kick to send Macomb ahead 3-0 at the half.

At the opening of the second half Normal retaliated when Welty returned a punt 41 yards and Camp passed to Kavanagh who galloped to the 8 yard line. From this point Welty scored and passed to Miller for the extra point.

Captain Moore, Brunswick, Lehwald, and Kavanagh were outstanding in the line while Welty, Miller, and Vucich starred in the backfield.

Normal vs. Charleston at Normal, Illinois
October 24

Gunning for their second conference win the Red Birds pushed the Charleston Panthers all over the field to gain a 13-0 victory.

Normal blocked a Charleston punt on their thirty-one yard line after which Bright made a first down on the twenty yard line. A pass from Welty to Christensen made a fourth down and seven, and from this point Welty scored and passed to Lehwald for the extra point.

Normal put Charleston back on their own goal line when Bright kicked to their three yard line at the start of the second half. Welty then returned Charleston's punt from Normal's 45 to Charleston's 33 yard line. Stambach then passed to Miller for the touchdown; however, the extra point was missed.

Brunswick and Moore were outstanding in the line while Welty, Bright, and Vucich stole the spotlight in the backfield. Lehwald made it tough going around the ends.

Normal vs. DeKalb at Normal, Illinois
October 31

Playing to a capacity crowd of three thousand homecomers, Normal displayed its greatest game of the year when they came from behind to tie the Northerners 6-6 late in the second half.

DeKalb scored early as Davis galloped 27 yards to a touchdown. Normal scored after an exchange of punts which put the ball on the thirty-five yard line. An incomplete pass to Kavanagh was ruled good because of interference and it was Normal's ball first down and ten on DeKalb's twelve-yard line. Stambach then faded back and passed to Camp for the tying score.

The playing of Captain Moore, Welty, and Lesnick was outstanding for Normal in this all-important game of the year.

Normal vs. Michigan at Ypsilanti, Michigan

November 7

Normal, taking advantage of the second team started against them, ran the score up to 7-0 at the end of the first quarter. Ypsilanti, however, came back strong scoring three touchdowns making it 19-7 at the end of the half.

At the beginning of the third quarter Normal literally plowed their way down the field for their second score and were well on their way toward a third touchdown when a penalty caused them to lose the ball and the game ended 19-13 Ypsilanti.

Captain Moore, Lehwald, Stambach, and VanHuss are to be commended for their brilliant play.

Normal vs. Eureka at Eureka, Illinois

November 14

For the first time this season the Red Birds were intact and traveled to Eureka to see their efforts doomed by a fumble and a pass in the first quarter. Although there was a bad wind and a dusty field, Normal outplayed their opponents, but failed to score when the opportunity presented itself.

With Bright and Kavanagh carrying the ball all over the field, Normal was able to run up a big first down advantage.

The diligent work of Captain Moore made him the most outstanding player on the field. Honorable mention may also be given to Bright, Kavanagh, and VanHuss who played excellent ball.

Normal vs. Wesleyan at Bloomington, Illinois

November 21

Normal ventured across the creek to stop Wesleyan but the tables were turned. The Normal boys saw their hopes of victory 'gone with the wind' when Wesleyan began its hard and fast driving, passing, and blocking. Although Normal outplayed their opponents between the forty yard lines they failed to score on their opportunities, and returned home on the short end 18-0.

Captain Moore, Kile, Stambach played their last game for Normal but the boys did right well for the school. Bright after a slow start blossomed into one of the finest fullbacks Normal has ever seen.

The outstanding players of this game were Bright, Kile and Captain Moore.

"B" Team Football

Normal's "B" team was made up of the scrappiest bunch of men ever to be assembled in many years. Night after night they took their positions against the varsity and some of the nights they proved to be just a little too tough for the boys. These lads, coached by James (Pim) Goff, stamped themselves as real men by staying out the entire season and showing fine spirit and cooperation.

With only three games on their schedule, they ended the season with a record of two games won and one game lost. The latter was a heart-breaking game at Macomb when the score of 2-0 resulted after the ball had been thrown into the end zone.

Returning to Normal, they later scalped Charleston twice. The first game ended in the score of 19-13 and the second game, 20-0.

Pim Goff deserves a lot of credit for the fine showing of his team this year.

Captain James Bush

Cross Country

By Curtis Smith

State Normal's '36 cross country team started the new year off without the services of Capt. Bill Herbster, Andy James, and ex-capt. Curtis Smith. The only veterans returning were: James Bush, the Hennepin duck hunter, who became a fine captain, Bob Smith, who has been one of the outstanding distance runners in the state for the past two years; George May, East St. Louis, and George Redden, Alvin, who have won recognition as endurance runners the past season.

New men who broke into the 3½ mile grind were: Keith Middleton, Bob Moore, Jack Canfield, Herbert Smith, John Scott, Les and Willard Lange, and Ned Delancey.

Normal nosed out Charleston in their first meet at the eastern institution by a score of 27 to 28. Jim Bush led the pack over the 3.65 mile course and into the home stretch in 21 minutes 53 seconds; although followed closely by Dayton and Anderson of Charleston, and Bob Smith of Normal.

The five men who scored Normal's points were Capt. Bush, Smith, May, Canfield, and Redden.

The following week Normal defeated Wheaton 20-36. Smith and Bush ran to an easy tie for first over a 3½ mile course in 18 minutes and 34 seconds. Berghouse of Wheaton captured a third place, but was followed closely by May and Canfield of Normal. Redden, who was the fifth Normal man to cross the finish line, was eighth in the race.

The Red Bird's walloped Macomb with the low score of 19 to 42. Again Bush and Smith raced to a tie for first place. May coasted in as an easy third, followed by Canfield, Moore, Redden, and Middleton who finished 6th, 7th, 8th, and 9th, respectively.

The spectators got an excellent view of the race at Homecoming between Milwaukee, Wesleyan, and Normal. Rudiger of Milwaukee paved the way for a 24 to 31 victory over Normal, running the 3.65 miles in 18 minutes, 58 seconds; while at the same time Normal defeated Wesleyan 15 to 40. Smith ran a very fine race to capture 2nd place, with Bush, Moore, May, and Canfield making up the rest of Normal's points.

Normal showed her power by placing 3rd in the Loyola Invitational Meet at Chicago behind Notre Dame's 33½ points, and Milwaukee's 35½ points. Smith, Bush, May, Moore, Canfield, and Middleton garnered points for Normal.

The Red Bird's lost their reign as State Champions to Eastern Teachers in the State Meet scheduled at Normal. Charleston came through in championship style with Dayton and Broyles finishing 1st and 2nd; but only after a hard race with Smith and Bush, who finished 3rd and 4th respectively. Anderson of Eastern, the '35 champion, could do no better than 7th this year. The five Normal runners who made up the team's points were Smith, Bush, Moore, May, and Redden.

The letter winners were Capt. James Bush, Robert Smith, George May, Jack Canfield, Keith Middleton, Robert Moore, and Manager Harold Hardesty.

Coach Cogdal entertained the squad at his home as the season closed. The letter winners elected Robert Smith, LeRoy, captain for the 1937 season.

Wrestling

With the return of five letter-men, things looked bright for the Hill-men. With Gillette, Custer, Redden, Olson, and Captain Kile returning for mat duty, the Redbirds set out to make wrestling one of the most popular sports of the school. With the addition of Stambach, Piazza, and Lang, the Redbirds' squad was complete.

Meeting nine opponents before the state meet, Normal won seven of these matches losing only to the University of Missouri and the state champions from Wheaton.

Gillett placed second in the 118 lb. class by losing to Schoun of Wheaton by a fall, crowning a new Little Nineteen champion. In the 126 lb. class Custer won third after putting on a test of endurance. In order to win, Jim had to fight two extra three-minute overtime periods.

In the 135 lb. class Lang lost by a fall.

Redden placed second in the 135 lb. class losing to Hess of Wheaton by a fall crowning a new Little Nineteen champion.

In the 155 lb. class Olson of Normal was crowned the new champion by pinning Albrecht of North Central.

Captain Kile was crowned new champion of the 175 lb. class by winning a time advantage over Berenhauser of Wheaton.

In the heavyweight Stambach stamped himself as a real champion by pinning French of Wheaton for the championship, giving Normal her third Little Nineteen champion.

Basketball

By Larry Hayes

Although having one of the largest schedules in the conference, the Red Birds went through the hoop season in fine shape losing only three of twenty-three games. They lost just two games to the age old rivals south of the creek, Wesleyan, and dropping the last game of the season by surprise to Western Coach Joe Cogdal had one of the strongest squads in several seasons despite the loss of captain Barney Barton, Sheahan, and Don Smith of last year's squad. It looked for a while as if Normal would vie with Bradley for the conference title but Lady Luck had a date elsewhere at the critical moment.

Arkansas State 28–41

December 5. Normal opened the season early with the Razorbacks on the home floor and showed them a speedy brand of ball, outclassing the usually strong Arkansas team 41-28. Cogdal used a great number of substitutes in search of a good clicking combination and his best bet seemed to be Hamilton and Adams at forward, Kavanagh at center, Jacquat and Balding at guards.

Wilson Junior College 25–35
Wright Junior College 27–31
Herzl Junior College 28–44

December 10. The basketball squad traveled to the Windy City for a three day series of pre-season games. Each of the three schools were taken with ease as again Cogdal used a number of new men.

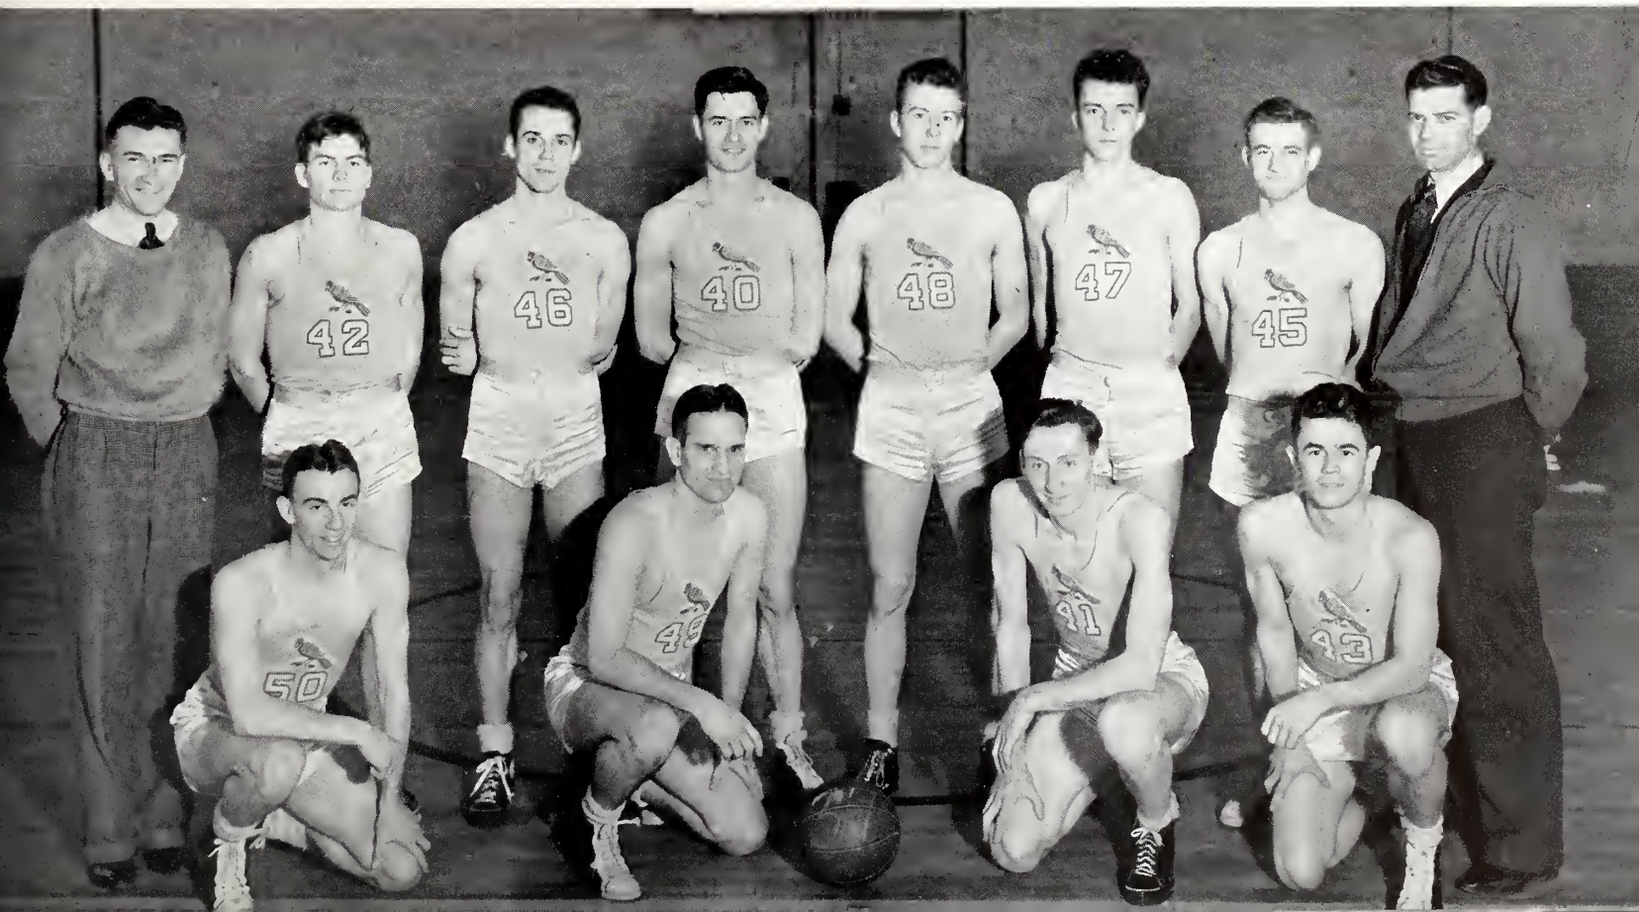

Wilson Junior College 23–41
Wright Junior College 34–43
Oshkosh State College 34–55

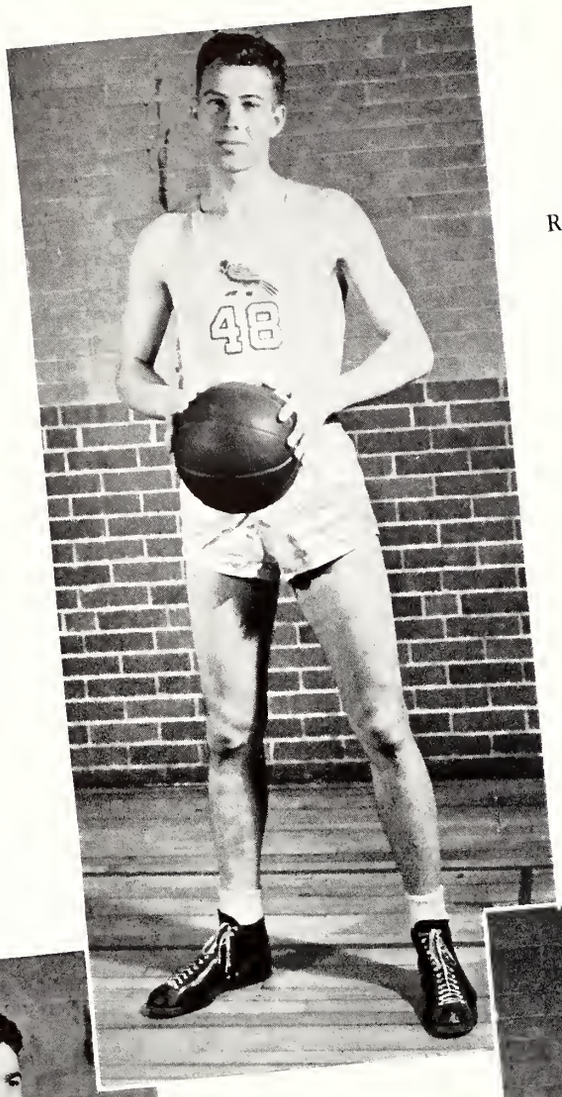

December 17. Wilson Junior College was met on the Normal floor and again trounced, even more severely. On the second night Wright played a return game and went home on the short end of a 34-43 score. On the third night the touted Oshkosh team from Wisconsin was beaten 34-55. Feek, Lyons, Lacey, Hanes, Ingerski, and Michaels gained their positions on the squad after their showing in these games.

Milwaukee State 37–59

December 21. Milwaukee arrived in Normal touted as a tough team to down, but before the long shooting of Balding and Jacquat piled up a large lead and the Red Birds coasted through to an easy victory.

Mississippi College 28–47

January 5. Normal opened the new year rolling over the Southern school to the tune of 47-28. Thus far in the season the Normal crew had not been pushed enough to require that the first five men be used throughout the game.

Eureka College 27–43

January 9. Normal opened the conference schedule, meeting an easy foe in Eureka. Eureka was held without a field goal for most of the first half and Normal finished off the game 43-27.

St. Viator College 20–23

January 12. For the first time in ten games Normal was pressed to play close ball, each shot counting. In the last minute the Birds gained a three point lead and maintained it to the gun.

Charleston 32–34

January 15. The Birds found themselves caged in the small Charleston gym and had difficulty keeping pace with the small, speedy Eastern ballhawks. Cogdal substituted several smaller men and found his boys closing up the gap. In the last minute Charleston led by a 32-31 score, Adams converted a charity toss to even the count and then came back a second later with a long field goal to win the game 34-32.

Wesleyan 30–26

January 18. Normal found themselves trailing most of the first half of the game having difficulty in stopping the fast breaking Wesleyanites. At the half way mark they managed to pull into a close position, but met difficulty again in the second half and trailed 26-30 at the gun to take their first defeat of the year.

Millikin University 21–49

January 23. Retaliating for their defeat which came early in the week, the Red Birds ran rough-shod over the Millikin crew, who had boasted early of a strong team. Jacquat and Hamilton had quite a scoring spree and rang up a good share of the 49 points while Millikin's best was 21.

Western State 39–48

January 26. Still running high, Normal met and conquered the Western State Teachers in a fast game which was kept in control at all times by the rangy Normal five.

Northern State 30–44

February 2. Again on the road the Birds traveled to Northern where the DeKalb Profs. tried unsuccessfully to halt the crew which had only met one defeat in sixteen games. Again Normal's height worked to their advantage over the short, but fast Northern team, and the Cogdalmen pulled through with a fourteen point advantage.

Eureka College 30–38

February 5. A little leery of meeting their old jinx in the Eureka cracker-box Normal ment into the game with fingers crossed and came out with a scant eight point margin. Again Normal met difficulty with small fast men and long shots were of no avail. The victory depended on rebounding and short shots.

Eastern State 35–45

February 9. Normal had little difficulty in overcoming Charleston on a large floor and the little Charleston men ran themselves ragged going from one basket to the other. At the gun Charleston found themselves lacking ten points of a tie.

St. Viator College 34–36

February 11. Followed by a large mob of fans the Bed Bird crew traveled to St. Viator for the crucial game of the conference race. The trip was celebrated by leaving the Vidette scribe to travel on his own from Dwight for some unknown reason. Viator's strong crew led the scoring through the game and in the last minute Old Normal still trailed two points. Kavanagh found himself under the basket and tied the score on a set up. A few seconds later Balding stepped across the center line and calmly sank a long swisher to forge ahead and win. There was a hot time in the home town that night!

Wesleyan 28–25

February 16. Again keyed up the Normal crew played one of the fastest and roughest games of the season but odds were against them and although leading the scoring in the first half, Wesleyan put on a terrific battle and eked out a three point margin to beat the gun!

Northern State 31–50

February 20. DeKalb Profs traveled to the Normal lair but were greatly outclassed by the Normal ball hawks and dropped off 31-50. This raised the quota to 19 out of 21 games.

Millikin University 17–28

February 23. Definitely playing the poorest game of the year, Normal had little difficulty in overcoming the Millikin crew who were settled at the bottom of the conference rating.

Western State 43–41

February 26. Still in a slump, the Normal crew went through the entire second half scoring only one field goal. But kept in the running by scoring 23 of 24 charity tosses to set a new collegiate record. But on the closing minute were still behind a field goal.

"B" Team Basketball

The purpose of the basketball "B" Team is to give inexperienced players experience in collegiate basketball and to train material for the varsity squad. These fellows come out to practice every night because they like the game and like to do their best.

The "B" Team is coached by Harold Frye of the Physical Education Department. They played several games with other schools and ended the year very successfully.

Coach Joseph Cogdal's call for track men was answered by the following veterans: Captain Gilbert Veach, Morris Carr, Bob Smith, Jim Bush, Les Lange, Frank Bright, Bob Moore, George May, Gene Masters, Horace Hanes, Kirkton, Bob Risser, and Bob Maurer.

New men to report were: Pat O'Connor, Rice, Upshaw, Vucich, Canfield, Willard Lange, Camp, Ferry, Kauffold, and White.

The Normal track men to place in the Mid-West Track Meet at Naperville were Jim Bush, who captured fourth in the two mile run, Captain Veach, who took fifth in the 440, and Morris Carr, who placed fourth in the pole vault.

Making another fine showing in spite of stiff competition, Normal's team captured two fourth places in the Armour Relays held March 20 in Chicago. The one mile team made up of O'Connor, Veach, Smith, and Rice, finished fourth and the two mile team composed of Lange, Smith, Bush, and Moore also took fourth.

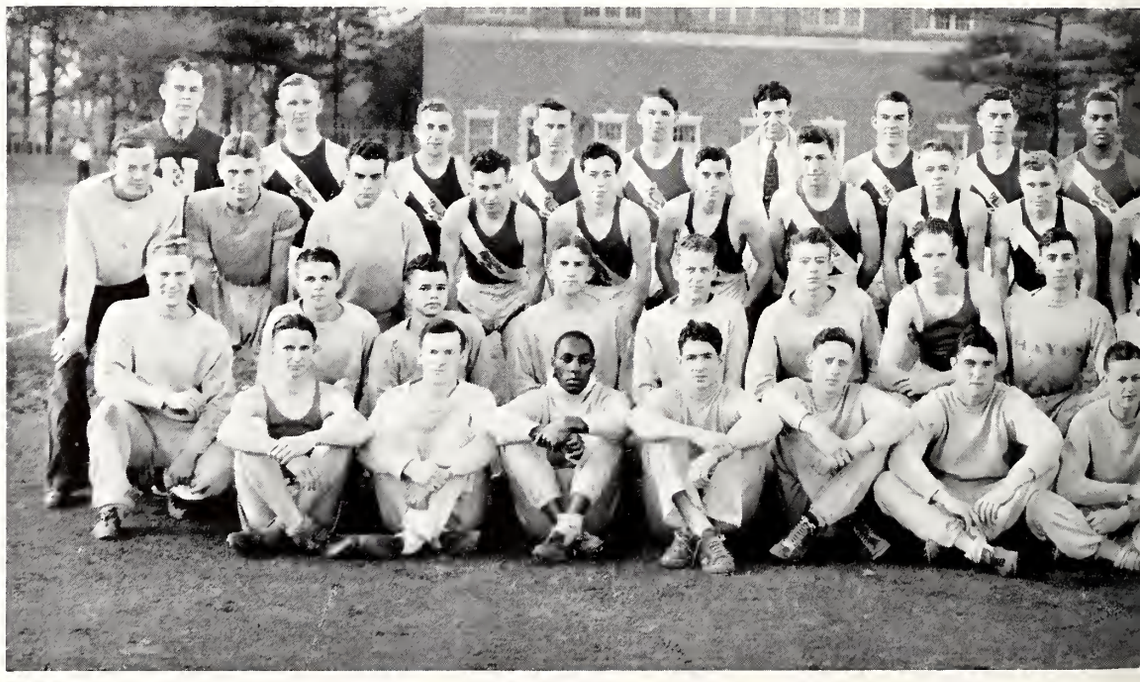

Coach Cogdal's team took fourth place behind North Central, DeKalb, and Wesleyan, in the I.I.A.C. Indoor Meet held at Naperville. Jim Bush, Normal's cross country star, captured first place in the two mile run by outclassing Duncan of Wheaton, in 10:11. Captain Veach placed second in the 440 yard dash in spite of his being ill the preceding week. Bob Smith came home with a fourth place medal in the mile run. Maurer, Normal's hurdler, took fifth in the sixty yard hurdles. O'Connor demonstrated his sprinting ability by placing third in the sixty yard dash. Carr cleared 12 feet and 2 inches in the pole vault to get a second place. Upshaw leaped five feet and six inches to place fifth in the high jump and at the same time established a new all time Normal record in the event. Another all time Normal record was shattered when Frank Bright pushed the sixteen pound shot right through Art Miller's record with a heave of 41 feet, 8¼ inches to place fourth in that event.

The Red Bird thinlies won their first outdoor meet over the Eastern Teachers with a score of 93 to 38. Bob Risser set a new Normal record of 132 feet, 2 inches in the discus. The boys who came through for Normal's four slams were: Masters, O'Connor, and E. Smith in the century; Captain Veach, O'Connor, and E. Smith in the 220 yard dash with the time of 23.3 seconds. Masters jumped 21 feet, 10 inches, in the running broad jump, with Childs and Howell second and third. Frank Bright took the shot put honors with a toss of 42 feet, 6 inches to cap Camp and Kirkton.

Jim Bush won the two mile run over the Anderson brothers in 10 minutes 11.7 seconds. Les Lange and Bob Smith won the one-half and mile run respectively. Captain Veach had to run a 53 second quarter mile to win over Rice of Normal. Hanes leaped 5 feet, 9 inches to gather five points with Upshaw placing third. Vucich placed third behind the record breaking throw of Risser in the discus. Maurer won the high hurdles in 16.2 seconds.

Balance and another hurdler seem to be all Coach Cogdal has to work on before the Red Birds will again be one of the foremost teams in the conference.

Baseball

By Ralph Deetz

With the coming of spring our thoughts turn to the outdoor sports, baseball, in particular. This year the prospects for a great team at Normal looked bright. The return of Captain Jacobson, Jacquat, Mathews, Aleks, Cline, Rodeghiero, Augustine, Piazza, Read, and Hamilton, all lettermen from last year's team, make the outlook even brighter. Brandt, Sprau, and Bixler, of the returning pitching squad make the setup brighter, as do the host of freshmen ball players, including McReynolds, Garnero, Jackson, and Hainline. Kavanagh, a soph, is a pitcher who shows promise.

For the first time in baseball history at Normal, the team took a spring training trip in the South. Coach Hancock's boys have shown themselves to be real contenders in baseball competition this year.

Sports—Women

By Marcella DeWitt
and Virginia Deetz

Through the Department of Physical Education and allied organizations, Illinois State Normal University is making rapid progress in finding a solution for the problem of wholesome leisure time activities.

The women's intramural program is sponsored by the Department of Physical Education for Women and the Women's Athletic Association. An extensive list of activities is offered for the women students through the year. Each activity is coached and supervised by a member of the staff of Physical Education for Women. Student leaders, elected by the Women's Athletic Association, assist in planning and carrying out the recreational program. These student leaders, together with the officers of the Women's Athletic Association, comprise the executive board which cooperates with the Department of Physical Education through their sponsor, Miss Esther Hume.

The recreational program is composed of two parts, an intramural program and an extramural program. The intramural program includes all the sports activities, dances, and "hobby-nights" held on the campus. The extramural program is composed of the trips made by Illinois State Normal women to other campi to compete in sports days.

A wide range of activities is offered to all the women in school. Besides dances and "hobby-nights," the program includes hockey, soccer, lacrosse, basketball, volleyball, bowling, tumbling, swimming, archery, tennis, golf, baseball, recreational games, outings, social dancing, tap dancing, and natural dancing. Each activity is offered for nine weeks in most cases. The Women's Athletic Association, the Physical Education Club, and Orchesis assist the Department of Physical Education in carrying out the program.

Several years ago the points system, the giving of letter awards, and the honorary plaque were discarded in the intramural program for women. However, honorary teams for each sport are picked. The requirements set up for membership of such teams are as follows: The player must be a member of the Women's Athletic Association, she must have paid her dues, she must have attended at least half of the organization meetings, she must be an enrolled student, carrying at least three fourths of the college load and passing in all her work, she must have attended the required number of practices in the sport, and she must be chosen by the committee governing the sport, on the basis of her skill. These requirements with the exception of active membership in the Women's Athletic Association, also hold for special teams representing Illinois State Normal University on the campi of other colleges and universities.

The activities of the first semester showed wide variety. For nine weeks, hockey, soccer, lacrosse, beginning tennis, and archery were offered. During the second nine weeks, basketball, bowling, social dancing, and beginning tap dancing for both men and women were conducted.

Viola Vogt was the head of hockey and Miss Hume and Miss Frey supervised and coached. There were eighty-five women interested and six teams were organized with Josephine Riccolo, Johann Becker, Betty Wolfe, Alice Blum, Sue White, and Margaret Sage as captains. After the practice period was over, a round-robin tournament was held and Joan Becker's team won. The honorary squad chosen was composed of, left to right: Frey, DeWitt, White, Angleton, Schlinger, Allen, Hume, in the back row. Front row: Royse, Simms, Vogt, Roberts. Not identified in picture: Alice Blum, Martha Kitzmiller, Tyde Ann Pickett, Ruth Pritchett.

Hockey

Soccer was organized by Mary Bryant with Miss Bergland and Miss Thielen as faculty advisors. Three teams were organized and Eleanor Allen, Evelyn Starkey, and Gladys Wiseman were elected captains. Evelyn Starkey's team won the round-robin tournament. The honorary squad chosen included, back row, left to right: Thielen, Buser, Smargiassi, Allen, Starkey, Bergland. Front row: Nickolas, Wiseman, Becker, Royse, Simms.

Soccer

Lacrosse

Lacrosse is still very new in the intramural program. Miss Hume directed the activity and Verla Hill assisted. Two teams were organized and the majority of time was spent learning the skills of the game. Those appointed to the honorary squad are, left to right: Kitzmiller, Corzine, Strange, Deetz, Jacquith, Hill, Summerfeldt.

Beginning tennis is exceedingly popular as was evidenced by the large number that participated. Miss Barto, the faculty supervisor was assisted by Martha Schlinger and Florence Harmon.

Tennis

Archery

The archery activity was not formally organized, but if students cared to arch they checked out equipment. Miss Frey, assisted by Dorothy Booker and Wilma Strain, offered suggestions to those wishing supervision.

Basketball still remains one of the most popular sports and this year one hundred and fifty women participated. Miss Hume and Miss Frey were assisted by Sue White and Willa Mealiff in directing the activity. Twelve teams were formed and captained by: Lois Plotts, Evelyn Roberts, Marian Swank, Johann Becker, Gwen Wright, Elizabeth Games, Evelyn Gourley, Louise Huff, Hazel Morris, Helen Smargiassi, Madeline Stewart, and Clifton Tillman. Evelyn Roberts' team won the tournament. The honorary squad included, back row, left to right: Hadley, Atkinson, Harlan. Front row: Vogt, Huff, White, Schlinger, Graves. Not identified in picture: Persinger.

Basketball

Tapping

Bowling

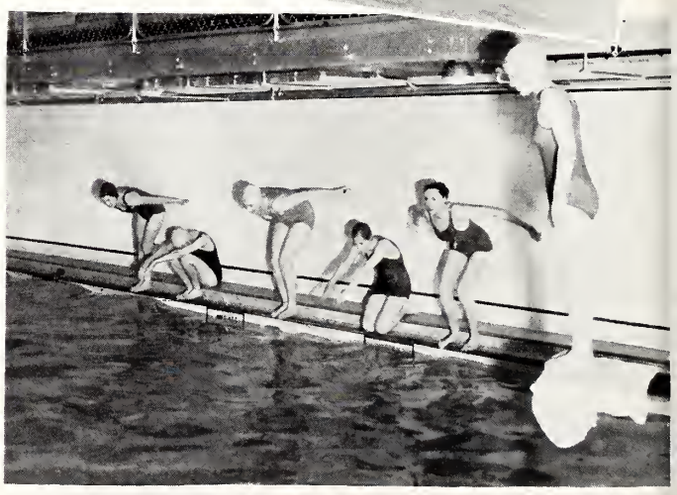

Many Illinois State Normal students have yearned to be Fred Astaires or Eleanor Powells. At any rate a hundred and sixty-five men and women participated in beginning tapping. Miss Barto and Ruth Pritchett taught the group.

Social dancing proved to be as popular as ever with about ninety men and women wanting to learn to dance. Miss Barto taught this group also, with Esther Harlan assisting as student head.

Bowling was offered for both beginners and advanced people at the Pat Harkins Alleys in Bloomington. Miss Bergland, assisted by Marcella DeWitt and Ada Teodori, taught the beginning group. The advanced bowlers were given four tickets a week and bowled whenever they cared to do so. The honorary bowling team was composed of, left to right: Cunningham, Graves, Shields, Moniger, DeWitt.

Swimming

Although there is no pool on the campus, a great demand for swimming existed in the women's intramurals. The Y.W.C.A. pool was rented for several evenings each week, and even though the classes were only half an hour long, many women had to be left out. Miss Barto taught the group with the assistance of Marcella Howardson. Not only beginning swimming was taught, but also intermediate and advanced.

Volleyball

Golf

Baseball

Tumbling was more or less informally organized with Miss Esther Hume supervising and Virginia Jaquith assisting her.

A large group was interested in learning golf. Miss Wingeier and Miss Bally taught the beginners while Evelyn Roberts assisted. The advanced golfers were given free tickets to use at the Maplewood Country Club at their own convenience.

Baseball was as popular as ever. Miss Bergland and Beth Atkinson organized the spring sport and six teams.

The outings program swings into action in the spring. Four or five over-night camping trips are held and all women in school are invited to attend. The only closed trip is the W.A.A. Board trip. Adelle Fisher is the student head of outings and Miss Hume is faculty advisor.

Sports Day

Besides attending Sports Day at other colleges, the Department of Physical Education sponsors a fall Sports Day at Illinois State Normal University. This year, the fourth annual Sports Day was held on October 24. The purpose of these Sports Days is to bring young women together from the various colleges and universities and give them an opportunity to become acquainted through a new type of experience. The sports offered are played for the enjoyment of the game and not for any special honors.

Miss Esther Hume was the faculty advisor in charge of the arrangements and Miss Eleanor Allen was the student chairman. The entire Physical Education Department, both faculty and students cooperated with the chairmen to make the day a success.

The colleges and universities represented were: Eureka, University of Chicago, DeKalb, Charleston, MacMurray, Millikin, Illinois College, Carbondale, Bradley, and Illinois State Normal.

The day was officially opened by a welcome from President Fairchild. Then soccer and hockey games were played throughout the morning. A round-table discussion was held just before lunch. Here representatives of the various schools discussed common problems. A luncheon was served at Fell Hall, and then the entire group of visitors attended the Charleston-Normal football game.

These Sports Days are considered very valuable not only for the schools participating but for those sponsoring the affair. The women's extramural program has been quite extensive this year, and even though the main idea of attending Sports Days on other campi is not just to win the games but to foster more of an educational purpose, Normal has always ranked high in the type of performances turned in by all the teams sent. Trips taken this year included DeKalb, North Central College at Naperville, and MacMurray College at Jacksonville. Two tennis teams went to Carbondale and Millikin.

As a whole, the women's recreational program has been considered quite successful.

SEPT. 8. Anchors aweigh! And the freshmen take the helm—which may account for the greenness of the campus.

SEPT. 9. Frosh tests. What I.Q.'s these neophytes have! Freshman reception!—hot!—sticky! Nice, though, say the fourth class.

SEPT. 10. Freshman party. Upper classmen have a very good time.

SEPT. 11. Registration! 'Nuff said. Upper class reception. All three upperclasses have fun.

SEPT. 12. First all-school dance. Notice President Turner escorting President Coffman? And Don Holley consoling himself for Connie's absence?

SEPT. 14. Good morning, dear teachers, good morning to you! If you students found all your class rooms in this maze of loose wire, wobbly stepladders, new-and very sticky-varnish, men working, and new rooms, you're pretty good, pret—ty good.

SEPT. 15. Ooo—have you seen Joe Citron's snowsy—er—chariot?

SEPT. 16. First Assembly. Did you upper classmen know? By the way—something should be done about these blackbirds.

SEPT. 17. Geraldine Ross swears that some day she's gonna forget and walk right thru that new partition in Wright Hall. Vidette's out—at last.

SEPT. 18. No school!

SEPT. 19. We see the Bishop is going to misbehave for Homecoming. Maybe the Bishop will have a lot of company—maybe.

SEPT. 20. The Buxton brothers are trying to compete with Joe Citron's bath-tub colored Ford. Don't let it scare you; it's only a motorcycle.

SEPT. 21. Great race for assembly seats. Well, Ralph got to sit next to Mary Helen; and Marguerite didn't seem to miss Paul very much, did she?

SEPT. 22. The stags at eve—had a party. And Doc Linkins couldn't find anyone to eat pie with him. Deer! Deer!

SEPT. 23. Not to be outdone, the girls got naughty-cal and had a party of their own. Went off right well, too.

SEPT. 28. Musta been a swell dance Saturday night, the way all the people look this morning.

SEPT. 29. The Phils adopted "Lights Out" as their theme song last night and held their meeting on the stairs.

SEPT. 30. Didja vote? Griesheim won't let the news out until Friday. Suspense.

OCT. 1. Dorothy Anderson seems to be on quite familiar terms with the electricians around the school, with them calling her "baby." How 'bout it, Dorothy?

OCT. 2. Suspense is over! Congratulations, Messrs. Holley, Bright, Citron, Fairchild, et al.

OCT. 5. Activity tickets out. Little pitchers have big ears, n'est-ce pas, boys?

OCT. 6. All that noise you heard this afternoon was just the Varsity Orchestra getting under way—with trumpeter Fred Stephenson trying to play a clarinet.

OCT. 7. Don Adams insists that Coach Hancock is a gentleman. And doesn't Don blush becomingly on the stage?

OCT. 8. Campus scene: Lee Stabenow looking super-efficient while helping with the High School freshman tests.

OCT. 9. Caught! Dr. Peterson standing in the audy door watching Mr. Deeds go to town and getting a big buzz out of it.

OCT. 12. Those swarthy fellows you see around are just our old friends the bootfallers who haven't quite got rid of all that mud they collected Saturday.

OCT. 13. We can't imagine Al Andrae as an "elderly and quite saintly dignitary" but the Vidette says he is, and we wouldn't skept for anything.

OCT. 14. "Lights Out"—over at the library. How did it feel to be caught eating a taffy apple when the lights went on, Genie?

OCT. 15. Bang! bang! And another blackbird bit the dust. Now it's safe to walk through the campus.

OCT. 16. Football game, and Western "went west," 7-3.

OCT. 19. Halliburton's Flying Carpet dumped us off with an auful thud for 8 o'clock classes.

OCT. 20. We bet Marcella Howardson finds out what an English horn is before she makes another bet with Van Meter.

OCT. 21. The Battle of Analogies, starring Turner, Holley, Wilson, and Graham. It was announced as a debate.

OCT. 22. Al Andrae and Lee Stabenow have a system all their own when it comes to ordering meals. Did you ever eat See-Herry pie? They have.

OCT. 23. It's a long, long way to Bloomington—but not on a snake-dance with a free movie as a goal.

OCT. 26. Mariada has a beeyutiful diamond and we're giving you just one guess.

OCT. 27. Homecoming is in the air. We wish it would hurry and alight.

OCT. 30. Hi, Homecomers. Looks as though Everyone is back. And Tea Weems was tops. And no hours to keep!

OCT. 31. Hail, hail, the gang's all here! The Parade, the luncheons, the Game, the Smith Hall tea, the play, the reception, and Charlie Agnew to complete everything! Swell, huh?

NOV. 2. Ho Hum. Even the weather was droopy. How was Peoria, Stupeck and Peasie?

NOV. 3. Did everybody vote?

NOV. 4. Prexy says:
Tut, tut!
Don't cut.

NOV. 5. Dr. Cooper seems to think most of the I.S.N.U. girls are too thin, doesn't she, Mary Fran?

NOV. 6. Onay Oolschay!

NOV. 9. The Michigan climate just didn't agree with our touchdown squad. We lost, 18-13.

NOV. 10. Somehow, with winter so close, we just can't get enthusiastic about all those new fans in the library and the study hall.

NOV. 11. To Dr. Abram Sachar—our sincere admiration and enthusiastic applause.

NOV. 12. Dean Schroeder saves the taxpayers' money and puts out the study hall lights.

NOV. 13. Jinx day—(Friday 13). Jean Thomassen says, "Poof! Who's afraid?" Thanksgiving hop tonight.

NOV. 16. Eureka—6, Normal—0. And that Eureka team was oh so rough that Paul Ives couldn't go to the Fell Hall dance.

NOV. 17. Tag day. "Who said another 26 years?"

NOV. 18. The Holtz twins put on a "double" assembly. More tags.

NOV. 19. Are we burned up? After Griesheim and Co. worked and worked and worked to build our bonfire for tomorrow night, somebody set it off tonight.

NOV. 20. But we got another bonfire. And we had a swell snake dance. And now all we have to do is Beat Wesleyan!

NOV. 23. Normal—0, Wesleyan—18. Just wait until next year. Anyway, only 36 hours 'till vacation!

NOV. 24. International Debate. We're quite proud of Turner and Holley. If you want to know anything about Debater Greenwood, ask Esther Lillman.

NOV. 25. "Back to civilization—
"The train will carry us there!"

NOV. 30. In Memoriam:
Anna M. Blake

DEC. 1. Mr. Decker tells us he couldn't help "gobblin' " his dinner last Thursday.

DEC. 2. Those beflowered individuals you see meekly bowing their way around school aren't Chinese—just Lowell Mason neophytes.

DEC. 3. Try this on your imagination: John Hansing singing the Redbird's song falsetto!

DEC. 4. Smith Hall does its Christmas dancing early.

DEC. 7. Our four basketball teams beat Arkansas State to start the season out right, we notice.

DEC. 8. Kip calls a meeting and tells us to get busy. I.S.N.U. men are being very polite these days, with the Women's League dance coming up Saturday. Not that we're insinuating.

DEC. 9. Dr. Browne gives us the low-down on world events in assembly. Very few girls cut.

DEC. 10. Sophs sponsor matinee dance. It was fun. Basketballers beat Wilson Junior College.

DEC. 11. Vidette goes literary. Girls have their Christmas dance. Boys go to library or Alamo, mostly Alamo.

DEC. 14. The Christmas Ball was grand.

DEC. 15. Don Holley wins third in the state peace contest. Take a bow, Don.

DEC. 16. Carolers provide the Christmas spirit in Assembly. Mrs. Brunk and Jimmy Hodge agree that the first three years are the hardest.

DEC. 17. Everybody is having Christmas parties. We play our fourth junior college and win. Ho hum.

DEC. 18. General Exodus. "Merry Christmas to you, Merry Christmas to you, Merry Christmas everybody"—and stuff and things and oh, boy!

JAN. 4. Happy New Year! Back at school we discover: (1) The Alamo is closed. Woe, woe; (2) Mr. Fogler is no longer a bachelor; (3) We have just three weeks to write those term papers; (4) Elizabeth Virgiel is wearing a sparkler.

JAN. 5. We think the library ceiling looks elegant—but the smell!

JAN. 6. Assembly in the gym. Some people went. Imagine that.

JAN. 7. At the rate Dee Whisnant is carting things over to Brokaw, her room-mate wishes Van Meter would hurry up and get well so they'll have something left in their room.

JAN. 8. Invitational debaters take over the campus and "The Ghost Goes West" to make room. Junior Jamboree with floor show and everything.

JAN. 11. In Memoriam: Horace E. Loyet, sophomore.

JAN. 15. Globe Theatre Players came to town and gave us some streamlined Shakespeare. We liked it.

JAN. 18. University Club formal Saturday proved to be very exclusive. Old green jinx follows us and Wesleyan wins, 30-26.

JAN. 19. Campus scene: Maxine Zimmerlin and Ralph Deetz walking very unsteadily to school to make that eight o'clock class. (The ice, of course.)

JAN. 20. Assembly—Phils and Wrights glare at each other in preparation for the annual to-do.

JAN. 21. Henrietta Trapp has a birthday party up in the Vidette office—with cake and everything.

JAN. 22. Leap Year Week-end begins and the women of the campus escort their men over to Capen to see "No More the Sea." Congratulations, Janet K. Smith. 'Twas indeed striking.

JAN. 25. The girls evidently spent the week-end table-turning. Came the dawn—and there are some very severely crushed male egos going about. Exams begin.

JAN. 26. Exams continue. Matinee dance over at the gym helps to relieve the strain.

JAN. 27. If you were smart, you took your books back today.

JAN. 28. We weren't smart so we stood in line for an hour or so on the way to the book store—with plenty of company. James Holley told us all about ushering at the Castle.

JAN. 24. Practically everyone goes home for money.

FEB. 16. Wesleyan game turns out to be Wesleyan's game. But we lost by only three points.

FEB. 17. "Ga-Ga" Dunham practices toddling all over the stage but Citron is hard to satisfy.

FEB. 22. Georgie—Porgie's birthday. Phils have a party. Groups start to pose for Index camera man.

FEB. 23. Agnes Malkus gets mad and throws her pencil at Doc. Peterson. (It really only slipped but that's no story.)

FEB. 24. Home Ec. Club shows us some spring styles. Eula May Thomas stole the show in her white taffeta creation.

FEB. 25. Mildred Schulze is having quite a time these days learning French for the play. The male element of the cast tells her that Scotch is even worse.

FEB. 26. We didn't exactly envy the debaters when they left for Manchester at four A.M. Western took our last basketball game away from us.

MAR. 1. First sign of spring: Campus Charlie is back with us. So are baseball and track.

MAR. 2. Play cast tries something new and practices at four corners. Not a publicity stunt, either.

MAR. 17. Women's Day. Elections and everything. The tea was nice, too.

MAR. 18. Last rehearsal for the play; and the cast promises to stay home and read lines tomorrow night.

MAR. 19. Preston Bradley speaks at Capen and a lot of people go to listen.

MAR. 22. And now everyone knows "What Every Woman Knows."

MAR. 23. Just one more day till vacation!

MAR. 24. And we go home. See y' Tuesday.

MAR. 30. Tuesday. We kinda envy Emily Ann and Dorothy away out there in California.

MAR. 31. Gamma Phi plays around in assembly. Glad you're back again, Dr. Royalty.

APRIL 1. April Fool. Did you like salt on your breakfast food, Owen? Tryouts for the commencement play begin.

APRIL 2. Bill Aleks has the nicest way of helping people across streets, we hear.

APRIL 5. Pi Kappa Delta and Theta Alpha Phi people come back from conventions with some nice blue ribbons.

APRIL 6. "Cyrano" cast announced. Congratulations, Jeffie. Emily Ann and Dorothy finally come back to earth and the rest of us.

APRIL 7. Jesters find Gammer Gurton's needle for us in assembly.

APRIL 8. League of Women Voters had some exciting times in the Springfield elevators, Mary Margaret tells us.

APRIL 9. Campus over-run by high school speech contestants. Happy birthday, Kip. Soph Cotillion tomorrow night.

APRIL 12. Dick Griesheim insists that that is a mustache on his upper lip. Congratulations, Marguerite and Paul.

APRIL 13. Spring is here and Lola Sanderson gives advice to forlorn young men.

APRIL 14. Bouquets to Lowell Mason for an excellent assembly. Miss Allen finds playing opposite Cyrano very, very strenuous.

APRIL 14. P.T.A. convention plants a tree for us. Editor Dohm works all night on the paper. Tut, tut.

APRIL 16. Miss Teager's English lit class has a nice social hour and learns to play ombre. How is isolation at Brokaw, Fern?

APRIL 19. Jim MacGregor seems to have received a big kick out of "La Maternelle" Saturday. That was he you heard laughing.

APRIL 20. We think it at least a coincidence that Edith Shutes should go places with Charles McCannon. Sounds militaristic.

APRIL 21. Peace Day. We have peace lectures, poems, plays, orations, discussions, and tags.

APRIL 22. Marian Anderson gives a marvelous performance to a packed gymnasium.

APRIL 23. Freshmen stage a Grapevine Swing. Joe Bair has a good time bursting souvenir balloons.

APRIL 26. Faculty secrets: Dr. Waggoner likes jam on his peas and Miss Wilder dotes on raisin bread.

APRIL 27. Jester neophytes continue to amuse the Campus Inn. Bern Shafer confesses she really doesn't mind bowing.

APRIL 28. Sigma Tau Delta assembly. Walter Mullen wants to know just what the 3-7 ratio is doing to I.S.N.U. men.

APRIL 29. Miss Henline's freshmen have a preview of "Cyrano." Dee Filson and his army got off some very graceful charges.

APRIL 30. Campus swarms with budding musicians. Jesters have a steak fry and Clara Louise finds out all about pipe smoking. Hobby night was fun.

MAY. Stunt show, formals, barn dance, Cyrano, exams, prom, receptions, Commencement———

The year's not through
We must confess,
But we must stop
And go to press.
Goodbye———
